A Yule Gift He Can't Buy

KENNETH FRANK

By STEPHEN COOK

Herman Frank of San Rafael is desperately searching this Christmas season for a gift he cannot buy for his 17-year-old son, Kenneth.

Kenneth is dying in Great Falls, Mont., and his father would like to give him life.

The boy has suffered from nephritis, a kidney disease, for two years. In recent months the disease has worsened until doctors now give him only six weeks to live.

But, said the doctors, there is a chance the boy could recover and lead a normal life of someone can be found who will give Kenneth a kidney.

HOPE OFFERED

This hope was offered three weeks ago to Frank and his former wife, Dorothy, mother of Kenneth. In the time since, they have found that neither they nor anyone else in the immediate family are acceptable donors.

Kenneth must get a new kidney from a person with blood type B positive, not a very common type. Two relatives with the proper blood were found and an operation set for the day after Christmas, but their kidneys were subsequently found to be inadequate.

Now, in his desparate race against the disease, Frank is asking that anyone in the area with the proper blood type contact him at his home at 120 Spring Grove Avenue, San Rafael. He is listed in the telephone book.

'VERY EASY'

The operation, which a local urologist said is "very easy" for the donor, would be in Denver, Colo., Frank said. It probably would not require more than a 10-day hospital stay for the donor, according to the local doctor.

Doctors with the Kidney Foundation in Spokane, Wash., told Frank and the boy's mother that their son would have a 50 per cent chance of living if the donor was a relative.

"With someone outside the family, it's only a 30 per cent chance," said Frank, "but I hope that doesn't discourage a potential donor."

To Kenneth, any odds are good.

HIGH SCHOOL

The boy and his mother lived in Kalispell, Mont., and Kenneth was in his senior year of high school this year before the disease began the apparently final attack on both his kidneys.

"He's all puffed up with those poisons now," his father said. "His doctor says he could go into a coma at any time so they moved to Great Falls to be near the hospital there."

If Kenneth does go into a coma, he will be taken to Spokane and put on the artificial kidney machine there, Frank said.

According to his father, Kenneth was a good B student and planned to go to college next year. "He probably could have had a scholarship if he'd studied a little harder, but you know how kids are," he said.

Principal Says He's Called A Carol Coward

Dr. Alan Ellsberg, San Rafael High School principal, said today he's been called "a coward" for allowing Christmas caroling in the school halls to be canceled last Friday because of teacher objections.

"I have tried to answer, saying we look to our company lawyers, the county counsel's office, for legal advice in cases in which we are not quite sure," he said on Radio Station KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board."

"Hindsight is better than foresight," continued Ellsberg, "and had we anticipated the furor this was going to cause in our county, Dr. Voydat and Dr. Jordan would have taken it to the Supreme Court for a decision. . .

"At this moment I am quite sure our board of education will take it under advisement, will discuss it further and will come up with a policy to cover this kind of thing."

Morse J. Byer, chairman of the social studies department at San Rafael High School, said his objection to the caroling by the school's a cappella choir and chorus had been exaggerated by newspaper stories.

Byers said he ran into Byron Jones, choir director, at lunch one day last week. "I suggested there might be a legal problem involved in the light of recent supreme court decisions," he said. "I indicated that I was planning, and had already announced, mid-term examinations on Friday the 16th.

"Jones assured me the program would take only one period and he'd steer the singers away from my classroom. I said O.K. that's fine, and that was the

Thief Just Leaves A Santa Note

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Mrs. Eugene Firpo left her car keys dangling recently in the lock of the car trunk, which was full of toys. When she returned to her downtown parking place an hour later she found a note and the keys on the front seat of the auto.

"I could have stolen your car," the note said. "Please be more careful. Santa Claus."

Hanoi Civilians Fleeing City, Red Mayor Says

COMBINED AP & UPI

North Vietnamese government spokesmen today revealed that up to a third of Hanoi's civilian population—including nearly all the capital city's children—had been evacuated in fear of U.S. bombing raids. The government again charged that the raids had killed or wounded hundreds of civilians.

The Soviet news agency Tass said in a dispatch from Hanoi that the head of the North Vietnamese Foreign Ministry's press department held a news conference on the raids.

Tass indirectly quoted this unnamed person as saying that, "in the past 10 days, American planes made four air raids to bomb and strafe with rockets densely populated areas and suburbs of Hanoi," 3.1 to 6.2 miles from the capital's center.

Tass said "material evidence" showed U.S. denials of bombing civilian objectives were lies.

Soviet news reports monitored in Tokyo here quoted Hanoi Mayor Trang Gui Hung as saying: "We are doing everything in our power to guarantee safety to those who remain in the city."

The evacuation of one third of the North Vietnamese capital's population would leave Hanoi with about 400,000 persons.

DENY MISFIRES

A North Vietnamese government spokesman earlier today labelled the American misfiring claims as "an odious fabrication" and repeated Communist charges that U.S. pilot attacked Hanoi proper, "including the quarter of foreign embassies."

Today's statement came on the heels of a pledge last night by Defense Minister Vo Nguyen Giap that "no matter how many more troops the U.S. aggressors may bring" into Vietnam the Communists will fight the war to its end.

SINKS HOPES

Giap's statement, broadcast by the official Hanoi news agency VNA and monitored in Tokyo, appeared to sink U.S. hopes that North Vietnam might agree to an extended Vietnam truce over the Christmas and New Year's holidays.

The Hanoi regime has not commented directly on recent American efforts through U.N. Secretary General Thant to arrange talks on the possibility of lengthening the two 48-hour holiday cease-fires into an extended truce.

However, the Communist Viet Cong have rejected the idea as a U.S. "peace talk fraud."

Western diplomatic sources in Hong Kong, meanwhile, reported that the continued U.S. bombing of the Communist north were creating "problems of morale" for the Hanoi leadership.

The sources quoted a recent intelligence report saying the American bombing and Communist failures to win any decisive war victories over U.S. troops in the south were causing army support to waver.

Pope Seeks 'Miracle Of Good Will'

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI said tonight in his Christmas message to the world that he hoped for a "miracle of good will" that would move both sides to end the Vietnam war.

"Good will holds the key to peace," he said.

"The difficulty is that the responsible authorities of the two sides must make use of this key at the same time. That they should do so with sincere and concrete actions, should be the wonderous event of this Christmas."

His Christmas message last year appealing for negotiations did not mention Vietnam by name, but this year's message did.

The 69-year-old pontiff said his attention, and the world's were concentrated "on the state of war that still exists in Vietnam, a war that is revealed as typical, tragic and threatening."

He said the Vietnam war was steadily increasing in "surprise tactics, the means of warfare used, and the damage inflicted."

A few hours earlier, in Geneva, the World Council of Churches, which groups more than 200 Protestant, Anglican, Orthodox and Old Catholic churches in more than 80 nations, renewed its plea for peace in Vietnam. An appeal signed by general secretary Eugene

Dance Veto At College Of Marin Sparks 'Little Berkeley' Protest

Impetus for the uprising, supported by some student organizations and some instructors, was denial of permission for a student peace group to hold a public dance in the college gymnasium.

Academic regulations, drawn several years ago by the board of trustees of the Marin Junior College District, forbid public dances in school facilities.

Jed Gladstein, a student and officer of Students Against War, the group which was to sponsor the dance, said a grievance committee has been formed to petition the board for more student and faculty control of the college.

The petition has been signed by both students and faculty members, he said, but probably will not be ready for presentation by the next board meeting.

Members of the grievance committee, which Gladstein said was formed on the premise that the board should not have sole authority to make such campus regulations, include the Students Against War, College Republicans, Math and Science Clubs, the student newspaper Tower Times, and some professors.

Tower Times editor Jared Dreyfus said he is on the committee and understands the main point of the petition to be that an autonomous student-faculty committee should be set up "to run the academic community and let the trustees handle administration, like Cal."

Howell Breece, English instructor, said he was involved at first because he thought the dispute to be a question of administrative regulations vs. civil liberties, but he learned later that it simply involved regulation against public dances.

"Jed Gladstein doesn't think the regulation is reasonable and I do—that's where we part company," Breece said.

He said he has seen a rough draft of the petition. He called it "an unclear attempt to form some kind of student-faculty committee, excluding adminis-

Marine Unit Wins After Stiff Fight

COMBINED AP & UPI

SAIGON—A Communist battalion of 350 men launched two mortar and small arms attacks against a U.S. Marine unit near Hue today but was driven back in an hour-long battle fought in a monsoon downpour.

The increased activities of the Communists in this northeast corner of South Vietnam added to the belief the North Vietnamese were still trying to drive across the border in a new offensive. B-52 bombers and jet fighter bombers bombed red troop buildups near there today.

U.S. spokesmen also disclosed that 88 Americans died in action and 433 others were wounded in the week ending Dec. 17. It brought the number of American servicemen killed in the war to 6,407. It was just five years ago today that Spec. 4 James T. (Tom) Davis, 25, of Livingston, Tenn., became the first American fatality of the war. He was killed in an ambush outside Saigon.

Amplifying an earlier report, the U.S. Navy reported that two Phantom Jets from the carrier Kitty Hawk shot down two slow-moving enemy planes with air-to-air missiles over the Gulf of Tonkin Tuesday night and the pilots saw them explode.

An earlier announcement said only that the enemy planes had disappeared from radar detection screens. The announcement today said the planes were detected as they were heading in the direction of the nuclear-

Roth To Have Six-Year Term

Although the Marin Municipal Court term to which Hadden W. Roth was appointed Monday expires Dec. 31, Roth apparently will not have to stand for election until 1972.

Roth was appointed Monday by Gov. Edmund G. Brown to fill out the term of Judge Leonard A. Thomas, who died Dec. 10.

Judge Thomas's term expires Dec. 31, but he was elected in the June primary, without opposition, to another six-year term, starting Jan. 1.

Secton 71180 of the California Government Code says a court appointee holds office "for the remainder of the unexpired term." It does not specify what procedure is to be followed in case a person elected dies between his election and beginning of a new term.

Roth said today, however, that the matter was decided by the California Supreme Court last year in the case of Bruning vs. Caldwell in San Mateo County.

Howard W. Hartley was re-elected judge of San Mateo County Municipal Court in the June, 1964, primary, to a six-

Price Of Food Declines But Cost Of Living Rises

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An unexpected drop in food prices held the nation's cost-of-living increase to its lowest level in the last six months during November, the Labor Department reported today.

The department's cost-of-living index rose by one-tenth of 1 per cent in November to a level of 114.6.

Arthur M. Ross, Commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, said:

"The most notable development was the very considerable decline in retail food prices. It was a good deal more than expected."

Grocery store prices, led by a 10 per cent drop in the cost of pork, decreased nine-tenths of a per cent from October to November. Ross said that food prices normally drop a maximum of five-tenths of a per cent at this time of year.

The index shows how current prices compare to those during the 1957-59 base period. Thus, the amount of goods and services that could be bought for a $10 bill in the base years cost $11.46 in November.

The drop in food prices was almost enough to offset higher prices for almost all other consumer items, particularly housing, clothes, and medical care.

Ross said domestic service costs are increasing as a result of the new $1.40-an-hour minimum wage which goes into effect next month.

Clothing costs rose with men and boys' wear up eight-tenths of 1 per cent and womens's apparel up three-tenths of 1 per cent. The increase for men's wear reflected a general price hike for all goods while the womens wear increases were primarily for woolens. Ross said the cost of brassieres contributed greatly to the increase in womens apparel.

REAGAN'S BUDGET MIGHT BE TARDY

Finance Aide Wonders Whether Jan. 30 Deadline Must Be Met, Talks Of Economy

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Reagan administration is quietly wondering what will happen if it doesn't submit a budget by the Jan. 30 constitutional deadline.

Gordon P. Smith, Republican Gov.-elect Ronald Reagan's new finance director, said "presumably" the budget will be ready on time, even though the new team plans to be painstaking in its preparations.

"When we finally go to the legislature and say this is a budget . . . we recommend, we really want to know what we're talking about," Smith told newsmen yesterday.

He said he is asking Finance Department officials if "an exception has been made" to the constitutional rule requiring the governor to submit a budget within the first 30 days of the legislature. A department official said there have been no exceptions.

Asked if the administration might give the legislature a skeleton budget bill by the deadline, with details to follow later, Smith said "we have no plans for a skeleton budget now." But he said he was discussing the possibility with the Finance Department.

He compared California to a family with financial troubles.

"If you couldn't get an increase in salary, you'd have to cut your expenses," he said.

He said the new administration will take a "good, hard, cold look" at the state's 166,000 employee work force to find out if it is "overloaded" with workers.

Once again, he said new taxes would be used to balance a budget deficit only "as a last resort." Reagan has indicated he thinks taxes will be needed as the state's fiscal picture looks now.

NO RELATIVES

Coffin Containing GI Stands Alone

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) —A metal coffin containing the body of Sgt. Richard F. Campos, 26, lies at the Oakland Army Terminal with no relatives to claim it.

The infantryman was cut down by Viet Cong gunfire during a combat patrol in South Vietnam.

When word of his death reached Washington, D.C., Defense Department officials began the usual procedure of searching for the next of kin. They found none.

Further investigation revealed only that he was born at an Amador County railroad sidestation with only three homes and a farm labor camp.

His mother, known by her maiden name of "Campos," died of tuberculosis in a public hospital in 1942. His father was unknown.

For a time Campos lived with an aunt but she died here in 1948. Campos became a ward of the juvenile court. He attended St. Francis School in Watsonville for five years while living in a foster home.

The Roman Catholic Social Services Department of San Francisco then took charge of the boy but he voluntarily went to live at the juvenile detention home here even though he had never been accused of any crime.

When he enlisted in the Army in 1958, he listed his home address as 375 Woodside, San Francisco. A check by the Army disclosed that this is a juvenile home.

The Defense Department said Campos was the third U.S. serviceman to die in the Vietnam conflict for whom no survivors could immediately be found.

A spokesman said, however, that in the first two cases relatives later stepped forward.

As for Campos' grey coffin, officials said there were no plans for funeral services.

More Shipyards Settle Strikes

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Two more independent San Francisco ship repair firms have settled their dispute with the Marine Electrical Workers Union, which has been striking West Coast ship builders for more than a month.

The agreement yesterday granted wage increases of 84 to 96 cents an hour over the next 19 months to electricians at the Pacific Ship Repair Company and Ets-Hokins and Galvan Corp.

Three other companies have settled on the same terms with their own striking workers.

But the 13 major shipyards here and in the Pacific Northwest have refused to give the electricians increases larger than the 43-cent-an-hour boost won by other shipyard workers.

Ranch Christmas

AUSTIN, Texas (AP)—All is ready for Christmas at the LBJ Ranch, with holly and mistletoe, a tree and turkey.

The family of President Johnson plans to open its gifts Christmas Eve, the Texas White House said today.

Johnson's ranch house on the bank of the Pedernales River 65 miles west of Austin had Christmas wreaths of green spruce, pine cone and bronze bells on the doors.

The Christmas tree—a six-foot balsam—was in the President's office. Atop it was an angel in a blue brocade dress, the gift of German friends years ago.

It is theoretically possible to electrify a strip of the sea which will keep sharks away from bathing areas and yet be harmless to humans.

LBJ, Governors Reason Together

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson says he and grumbling Democratic governors have no quarrel on personal grounds but simply disagree, at least to some extent, on programs, patronage and politics.

Johnson, conscious of criticisms aimed at him at last week's caucus of Democratic governors at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., met yesterday with nine Democratic state executives at the LBJ Ranch, then summoned newsmen and introduced Gov. Harold E. Hughes of Iowa. Hughes was chairman of the West Virginia caucus.

While the chief executive stayed in the background, the Iowa governor said there were serious problems in carrying out some of Johnson's Great Society programs in the states.

But he said the governors, after a "very open and very frank" discussion, were leaving the ranch reinforced "in the complete support of the policies, the principles and the precepts as set forth by the President of the United States and the leader of the free world."

One of those in attendance was Gov. Warren E. Hearnes of Missouri, who had said last week that unless Johnson changed some policies and re-evaluated the political situation Democrats might well "start all over with a new candidate" in 1968.

Hearnes said nothing during the news conference.

Later, however, he was asked if he was ready to retract his White Sulphur Springs statement.

"I'm not taking it back or reaffirming it," he said. He also stated that he wouldn't say anything in West Virginia that he wouldn't say at the LBJ Ranch.

Johnson conceded that the governors had complaints about the administration of some of his Great Society programs, about the distribution of federal patronage and about the way the Democratic National Committee functioned in the November election.

The President was asked about speculation that he would not run for re-election in 1968.

"I feel about that like I feel about most speculation," he replied. "I've got other things to do."

One newsman persisted and asked if he would run in 1968.

"I'll cross that bridge when I get to it," Johnson said. "This is not 1968."

The governors on hand, apart from Hughes and Hearnes, were Dan K. Moore of North Carolina, Robert McNair of South Carolina, Mills E. Godwin Jr. of Virginia, Hulett Smith of West Virginia, John Connally of Texas, Philip Hoff of Vermont and Karl Rolvaag of Minnesota.

A hydroelectric project and atomic, fossil fuel and geothermal steam - electric plants all will be under construction at the same time next year. Compressor plant additions and pipe line extensions for more natural gas deliveries also will be built or laid.

Graham Tells Laughing GIs About A Bear

LONG BINH, South Vietnam (AP) — Billy Graham told 5,000 American servicemen today about the man who went bear hunting without a weapon.

After half an hour he came running back toward a cabin where two friends were.

"They heard him hollering 'Open that door! Open that door!' " Graham said. "They looked out and saw a big bear chasing him. They opened the door, but just before he got there, the man stepped aside and the bear ran in. The man shut the door and shouted through the window 'Skin that one, and I'll go get another one!'

"You might work that on Charlie (the Viet Cong) sometime," Graham suggested.

The GIs roared.

"There are millions of Americans that are very proud of you. Their prayers and hopes are with you," Graham told his audience. "God bless you."

Rusk Opposes Anti-Missile Systems Race

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk believes the United States and Russia should get together on "some means" to avoid a major new arms race in antiballistic missile (ABM) systems.

"We would regret very much the lifting of the arms race to an entirely new plateau of major expenditures," Rusk told a news conference yesterday.

He said the United States would like to see "some means developed by which both sides would not have to go into wholly new and unprecedented levels of military expenditures." Experts have estimated that Nike-X, the U.S. antimissile system, could cost from a minimum $3 billion to a maximum $30 billion.

'NO RESULT'

Rusk said an ABM arms race might have "no perceptible result" on the total strategic situation, despite the vast cost.

In the past at the Geneva disarmament talks the United States has proposed a freeze on both offensive and defensive missiles, Rusk noted that this matter is still before the Geneva conference, which reconvenes in February. Russia and the United States are co-chairman of the conference.

Rusk's remarks came one day after the United States triggered its most powerful underground nuclear test in Nevada.

The Soviet Union detonated a huge underground explosion at its Arctic test site Oct. 27. There has been speculation that both of these tests were to gather data relevant to an ABM system.

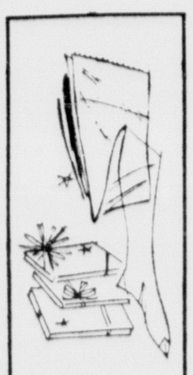

RUSS START

Last month, at a news conference at President Johnson's Texas ranch, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara said the Russians had begun deployment of an antiballistic missile system.

There is debate among U.S. experts on just how extensive the Soviet deployment is. American diplomatic officials say the Russians have entered the field in only a limited way so far and there is still time to forestall a major arms race.

High-energy light waves from lassers, capable of disintegrating coal almost instantaneously into its chemical components, may also provide a new means for making valuable chemical products from coal.

North Marin District Aids Unique Pollution Research

By PAT PERRY

It's a pity Dr. Edmund Smith and his colleagues at the Pacific Marine Station at Dillon Beach weren't around San Francisco Bay a century ago, for then the waters might not be so murky today.

And the waters of Tomales Bay will, hopefully, stay unpolluted because of a water study just begun by the station and the North Marin Water District.

Working with extensive records of Tomales Bay's ecology gleaned during the last nine years, the marine station is to put the water and its millions of inhabitants under the microscope to determine before-and-after effects of sewage effluents in ocean water.

STUDY'S PURPOSE

Gen. Mgr. Jerome C. Gilbert of the water district said the current study will be paid for by developers of 1,500 acres south of Marshall bordering on the bay. However, state and federal agencies are also intensely concerned in the project and it seems safe to predict it will continue long after homes and shore development come to the bay.

The North County water district is cooperating in a county sewer master plan, scheduled for completion by September. "This will provide a long-range plan for treatment plants and sewer systems, for the whole county of which Tomales Bay is a part," explained Gilbert, "but this study will study the possible effects of waste disposal in the bay—an extension with a microscope."

Unique in the country, the study will enable NMWD to scientifically determine the best and most effective method of sewage disposal — before it's installed, a practice hitherto unknown.

LITTLE POLLUTION

"It's essentially an unpolluted bay, one of the few regions anywhere in the world that has been worked on as an unpolluted region before development," explained Dr. Smith, director of the marine station, which is an adjunct of University of the Pacific at Stockton.

"We've been primarily interested in the biological community for the last nine years. We can establish the natural situation, the natural fluctuation of marine life on an unpolluted basis.

"In view of the development that will happen over the next 10 to 20 years, we should establish a base line of water quality."

CHEMICAL INVASION

To determine this base line, an invaluable aid to planners in decades ahead, the marine station is augmenting its nine-year-old program of studies of the water and marine life. Scientists will study nitrogen and phosphate content. "Normally constant in a marine environment, these chemicals often come in from effluent," said Dr. Smith. "With most treated effluents you don't get large amounts but it is there. We want to establish the level, monitor it before sewage does enter the water."

"The bay itself and Tomales Headlands is a very rich area, a unique micro-division between northern and southern forms of marine life," said Smith. "Abundant with algael growths and marine animals, it's a very unique region."

There are 14 full-time scientists at the station year around, faculty members and graduate students. In the summer the complement swells to 70, with students and faculty members from University of the Pacific and University of Chicago.

GEOLOGICAL INTEREST

Chicago? "Some of the faculty were interested in the bay as a prime example of a rift valley sitting atop the San Andreas fault and relating the marine life to fossils," explained Smith. "Now they've become even more interested in the living community."

Each of the faculty members conducts an area of research independently, yet all are related to the ecology of the bay. Time stations dotted throughout the 15-mile-long inlet are monitored all year, with a concentrated effort during the summer.

Smith couldn't predict what the results of the study might be on the validity of pumping treated sewage into bay water. "That's why we're doing it," he said.

Burglary Suspect Held In Colorado

A man suspected of committing burglaries in the Mill Valley area early this month has surrendered to the sheriff in Larimer County, Colo., Mill Valley Police Chief Dan Terzich said yesterday.

Harold Keith Stewart, 20, turned himself in last week in Colorado, he said. Luggage and a jewelry box recovered from Stewart's car apparently match those stolen Dec. 6 from Mrs. Margaret N. Williams, 22 Molino Avenue, Terzich said.

Belli's Bride Files Suit For Divorce

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Pat Montandon is suing attorney Melvin Belli for divorce, saying their marriage 70 days ago in Japan was invalid.

Miss Montandon, a model, filed suit in San Francisco Superior Court yesterday charging their Shinto rite ceremony in Sapporo, Japan, Oct. 12 was not recorded as required by Japanese law.

She also said the ceremony was performed in Japanese, without an interpreter, and that she was never given a license, agreement or any other document to sign consenting to the marriage.

Miss Montandon asked the court to declare she was not legally married to Belli, or, if she was, to annul the union on grounds of fraud. She also alleged extreme cruelty.

Belli, who has written a book on Japanese law, said the marriage is completely valid.

"However," he added, "I don't know who wants out of this marriage more—Pat or I. It is my fondest hope that this matter is expedited."

Youth Charged In Fatal Gunplay

MARTINEZ (AP) — A youth who says the rifle shooting of Terry Maloney, 18, early Tuesday was accidental has been charged with manslaughter.

Maloney, home in nearby Lafayette for the holidays from the College of Idaho at Caldwell, was hit while riding in a car on San Ramon Valley Road.

Nicholas Antuna of Danville told Mark Thomas, director of the Contra Costa County Juvenile Hall, that he fired his 8 mm. rifle in the Chrismas tree lot where he was a watchman, then went home to bed.

Antuna said he had no idea the bullet had hit anyone until deputies woke him and took him to juvenile hall.

After the caroling was canceled, Ellsberg referred to objection by "a group of teachers," and William C. Jordan, acting superintendent, said "a couple of teachers" had objected. None but Byers was ever identified, however.

Richard V. Godino, assistant county counsel, said, "All of this talk of the common practices and traditions of the United States dealing with religious questions doesn't really recognize the fact that the founding fathers of this country set aside religion from the civil authorities."

He called the First Amendment to the Constitution the "Crowning glory of American freedom, which guarantees absolute religious freedom."

"The opinion of our office is not that caroling is illegal. Christmas caroling per se is legal and is proper. The only problem arises when it is part of religious observation," he declared.

"It's a touchy area of law, Christmas. It isn't a mid-winter bacchanal. As Linus said, 'This is what it's all about.' "

Listeners telephoned questions to the speakers on the program, to be re-broadcast Sunday at 12:30 p.m. One asked Byers if he considered receiving three weeks' pay for Christmas holidays acceptable.

Byers answered: "Technically I am paid for 179 teaching days. I am paid this salary payable over one year."

Lawrence A. Lindberg, director of instruction, Marin County superintendent of school's office, backed him up. 'Teachers are employed on annual contract which includes the entire teaching year of 175 to 180 days of duty," he said.

Lindberg said school curriculum includes many references to our Christian heritage. "The word Christmas and Christ are used in our spelling books, we teach about the Pilgrims and the Crusades," he related.

Byers, who said as far as he knew he was the only teacher at the high school who had even mentioned the caroling, said: "I don't have to be sold on the importance of religion. I spend a great deal of time in my classes on the importance of the religious institutions in development of a society."

Dr. Ellsberg said he'd heard there'd been some odjections to Christmas decorations in the faculty cafeteria and main office. "My reaction was the same as Charlie Brown's: 'Good Grief!' "

At the program's beginning, Ellsberg said he had the impression there was "a feeling in the community that there is a conspiracy" of some sort to disrupt the school.

Abortion Foes Launch Drive

Opponents of Patricia Maginnis' recent three-week abortion lecture series in Marin have decided to press for legislation aimed at preventing such classes.

Mrs. Fred Baumsteiger of San Anselmo, who heads MOMI, Mothers Outraged at the Murder of Innocents, said today the 35-member group has contacted State Sen. John F. McCarthy and Assemblyman William T. Bagley and asked them to introduce legislation banning abortion lectures.

"We don't want to let the fire die while the issue is very much alive," said Mrs. Baumsteiger. "We want legislation that will cover people who are practicing medicine without a license."

powered U.S. cruiser Long Beach but did not say they were trying to attack her.

In other developments, Prime Minister Harold Holt announced in Canberra that Australia is beefing up its 4,500-man contingent in Vietnam to 6,300 men early next year. He said Australia will send 900 more soldiers, the guided-missile destroyer Hobart and a squadron of eight Canberra jet bombers.

The Korean Military Command, in a yearend summary, announced that its troops have killed 5,559 of the enemy and captured 1,529 in the past year. The United States is willing for U.N. Secretary General Thant to talk with anyone — Communist Viet Cong included — to arrange a permanent truce in Vietnam.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk said there were absolutely no strings attached when the United States urged Thant Saturday to "take whatever steps you consider necessary to bring about discussions which could lead" to a cease-fire. He said the Secretary General had "maximum latitude."

Everywhere he goes, Frank carries with him a small scrap of paper. On it are written the name and telephone number of a doctor in Spokane whom he must contact as soon as a donor comes forward.

More Local Unification Control Asked

More control of school district unification by the County Committee on School District Organization is being requested in a resolution adopted last night by the committee.

The resolution expands one adopted Nov. 16, calling on the state Legislature to revise the Unruh Unification Act.

Mrs. Ellen Binckley cast the only negative vote as the resolution passed 8-1. Mrs. Binckley objected to too much emphasis on county committee control.

The resolution asks that the time between unification proposals be extended to three years instead of two, and that, wherever it appears logical, the State Department of Education authorizes a different plan to be submitted to the voters after one plan has been rejected.

David D. Ring, who headed the subcommittee that prepared the resolution, said its new provisions would prevent futher impasse situations.

At Mrs. Conner's suggestion, the committee invited high school principals to appear before it Jan. 18 and give a picture of each school's education program.

year term starting Jan. 1, 1965. However, in August he resigned that office to accept appointment to the San Mateo County Superior Court. Governor Brown then appointed Thomas B. Caldwell to the vacant municipal court bench.

County Clerk John Bruning refused to certify Caldwell as judge of the municipal court the following January, contending his appointment had expired Dec. 31. The governor reappointed Caldwell, but Bruning held he did not have power to appoint to a new term.

The California Supreme Court decided, however, that Caldwell's original appointment was good until expiration of the new six-year term to which Hartley had been elected.

The court held that the elective process for the six-year term was completed in the June, 1964, primary, and that therefore that judgeship was not subject to election until expiration of that term in 1970.

This finding placed municipal courts on a different footing from superior courts. In the case of superior courts, the state government code specifies that such an appointment is good only until the next general election. There is a general election every two years.

Roth disclosed also that Judge Thomas had written his resignation when he knew death was near, and that it was submitted to Governor Brown on Dec. 9, one day before Thomas died.

POPE

Carson Blake, and Franklin Clark Fry, chairman of the Council's Central Committee, said:

"We are impelled to plead once more for an end to the mounting strife which at most could lead to an empty victory. We earnestly hope that, in proposing or acceding to a Christmas and New Year cease-fire, the combatants may be indicating a readiness for some form of negotiation. We cannot pray worthily this Christmas unless at the same time we press all parties to cease their violence now and to seek an early peace."

The Vatican also was making final arrangements for the Pope's historic auto trip to Florence Saturday to celebrate Christmas Eve midnight Mass and demonstrate his sympathy for the flood-stricken center of Renaissance art and science.

Usually, the pontiff celebrates Christmas Eve midnight Mass in the Sistine Chapel a few yards from his apartment. Pope Paul insisted to go to Florence this year to comfort victims of Italy's disastrous November floods and to focus attention on their urgent needs.

He reportedly will deliver in person part of the $1.6 million donated for flood relief by Roman Catholics in other countries.

Truce, Troubles Over JFK Book

HAMBURG, Germany (AP) — The West German illustrated magazine, Stern, announced today it will publish a complete and unabridged serialization of the book "The Death of a President."

Henri Nannen, editor in chief of the magazine, said Stern's serializaiton rights had not been affected by Look magazine's agreement in New York last night to remove or modify passages in the book relating to the personal life of Mrs. John F. Kennedy and her two children.

Nannen said Stern had paid $72,500 for the German serialization rights, and the contract between Stern and Look did not provide for any changes or cutting of the text.

A Stern spokesman said serialization will begin in the edition of the magazine appearing on West German newsstands Jan. 10.

Stern said in a statement it did not think Mrs. Kennedy could block West German publication through court action, since only that which is probably false or damaging to a person's honor can be blocked under German law.

"We do not know anything about the Stern statement except Look represented to us that they had made no agreement which permitted Stern or any other publication to which Look had sold rights to publish any text other than that which appears in Look Magainze."

And in New York the chief counsel for Harper and Row said today the book publishing firm "will be very glad" to settle the Kennedy book controversy with Mrs. John F. Kennedy along the lines of her out-of-court agreement with Look magazine.

Requested deletions and modifications that pertain to the personal life of Mrs. Kennedy and her children will allow Look to publish a four-part serialization of the book, "The Death of a President," as scheduled. The first part of the 80,000-word series will be in the Look issue of Jan. 10.

Two Suspects Nabbed In Utah Killing Spree

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—Five killings in five days in or near Utah's fog-shrouded capital city were linked today by Police Chief Dewey Fillis and two men were charged with first-degree murder.

Fillis said a sock and a blood-stained knife were found hidden in the springs of a car driven by two men arrested at a roadblock early today.

Two teen-age service station attendants, a cab driver and two tavern customers have been killed in five days.

Myron D. Lance, 25, and Walter Bernard Kelbach, 28, both of Salt Lake City and both recently paroled from Utah State Prison, were arrested and charged with first-degree murder, robbery and grand larceny in connection with the tavern shootings.

Police Capt. Don Ferguson signed the complaints in connection with the tavern incident and the shooting death of James Sisemore, about 46, of Salt Lake City.

Sisemore died in the tavern. Fred William Lillie, in his 20s, also shot in the tavern, died in a hospital a few hours later. Both were shot in the head.

Police said two men walked into a tavern, drank some beer, left and then returned firing shots into the ceiling. Police said after they scooped about $200 from a cash register, the men began shooting at customers, killing two and critically wounding two others.

Salt Lake City cab driver Grant Strong, 29, had been found shot to death near the city airport 39 minutes earlier.

A system of roadblocks was set up after the cab driver's body was found.

Fillis said evidence found so far indicated a link to the brutal stabbing deaths of Steven Shea and Mike Holtz, 18-year-old service station attendants abducted and slain over the weekend.

Their nude bodies were found 80 miles apart, east and west of Salt Lake City. Each body had five stab wounds.

Wilson is sure to be named to a sixth year as chairman and his selection of Potter to the $25,000 job also is sure to be approved.

CHRISTMAS A HOLIDAY? NOT FOR THEM

"Jingle Bells" will be more than just a Christmas song for Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.'s long distance operators in San Rafael. Christmas is the busiest day of the year for them, with many people calling relatives and friends with holiday good wishes. Getting ready for it were (among others) Mrs. Carolyn Sue Hill of 506 Vendola Drive, Santa Venetia (foreground) and service assistant Orlaine Farrell. Nearly 100 operators will work Christmas Day at the company's long distance office at 1 H Street.

Sanity Hearing Opens In Kentfield Killing

Hearing on the sanity of Hardy Westmore, 46, who shot and killed student Mike Lazar of Kentfield on Nov. 5, 1965, began today before Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court.

Scheduled to testify were Dr. David G. Schmidt of Larkspur, and Dr. Joseph P. Gutstadt and Dr. Robert W. Burke, of San Rafael.

Westmore, now at Napa State Hospital, petitioned for the sanity hearing and for his release. The three psychiatrists indicated earlier in written reports to Judge Keating that they believed Westmore is now sane, but the magistrate said he wanted additional oral testimony.

Judge Keating indicated today that he probably will take the matter under submission, rather than rule immediately on the petition.

Westmore killed Lazar, a College of Marin student, and wounded Janine Lieberman, a companion of Lazar's, during a social visit by the pair in Westmore's apartment at 1155 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield.

On June 27 Keating ruled him insane at time of the shootings. The ruling freed Westmore, a former college janitor, from a charge of murder in the slaying and he was sent to Napa hospital.

Sixth Victim Of Crash Dies

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A sixth victim of a highway crash which took the lives of Nye County Sheriff George Barra and Undersheriff John Maslach Tuesday near Beatty died today.

Sophie Espinoza, 16, succumbed at a Las Vegas hospital where she, two brothers and a sister were being treated for injuries. The others were reported in fair condition.

Her father, mother and older sister, all of Gabbs, Nev., died in the accident.

Youth Admits To Purchase Of Marijuana

A 16-year-old Ross youth who admitted buying four matchboxes of marijuana and smoking it with "friends" has been released to his parents by sheriff's juvenile officers.

Deputy Charles Prandi said the youth's mother notified officials at Redwood High School, which the boy attends, that she saw a plastic parcel appearing to contain marijuana in his pocket when he left for school.

School officials notified sheriff's officers, who talked to the youth at the school. Prandi said the boy had no marijuana when searched, but admitted he had purchased the marijuana for $15 from an acquaintance he declined to identify.

The youth said he smoked the last of the marijuana before reaching school, according to Prandi. The officer, who said the youth is already on probation as a runaway, reported the matter to the juvenile probation office and released him.

Sausalito Burglary Suspects Arrested In San Francisco

San Francisco police today arrested a man and woman suspected of stealing office equipment worth $600 earlier today from Sausalito Travel Service, 33 Caledonia Street. They were arrested while committing a burglary, police said.

San Francisco police identified the pair as Darlene A. Jackson, 18, and Earl M. Woods, 25, both of San Francisco.

An unidentified person called Sausalito police at 4:24 a.m. to report two persons were climbing out a window at the travel office.

Jack McIntyre, manager of the office, said missing items included two typewriters, two adding machines, two check writers, a rubber plant, part of a window display on India and a bottle of Scotch he had bought for the owner of the firm, Morris J. Fiksdal of Los Altos Hills.

The suspects reportedly had some of the stolen items with them when arrested, police said.

Missing Spacecraft Probe Being Made

The Air Force says the dart-like craft, about six feet long and weighing less than 900 pounds, is the prototype of spacecraft designed to commute between earth and orbiting spacecraft or to rescue astronauts stranded in orbit.

Communications Merger Approved

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Communications Commission's hurried approval of the largest communications merger in history today faced possible scrutiny by Congress.

Ignoring Congressional protests and a caution light from the Justice Department, a bitterly divided commission voted 4-3 yesterday to permit International Telephone & Telegraph Corp. to acquire American Broadcasting Co., the No. 3 television network and the nation's second largest radio system.

Sen. Wayne L. Morse, D-Ore., has said he will ask at least two Senate subcommittees to investigate the merger when Congress convenes next month.

RENO ABDUCTION

Quentin Escapers Not The Kidnapers

Two San Quentin Prison escapees were cleared last night of the kidnaping of a 58-year-old Reno woman when she was released unharmed and identified her abductors as two parolees from Arkansas State Penitentiary.

The victim, Eddith Grisham, credit manager of Harold's Club, told authorities a bizarre tale of being taken at gunpoint from the street in front of the casino after work Monday and being kept under close guard by the men, who did not molest her but bought stuffed animals for her grandchildren.

The pair, wanted for questioning in connection with two murders in Michigan and believed possibly headed for California in Mrs. Grisham's car, were identified as William Banks, 23, and Robert Gawne, 28.

Their identification cleared Ernest Edgar Little, 38, and Richard Henry Smith, 28, who walked away from the San Quentin ranch dormitory. Smith, serving a six months-to-15 year sentence for burglary, and Little, serving a similar term for bad checks, are still at large.

Just what was the kidnaping's purpose remains a mystery.

Mrs. Grisham was released yesterday in southern Nevada after riding with her abductors into the Sacramento area and back duirng two days of gunpoint captivity.

The small, thin woman was bedraggled and exhausted, but unharmed.

A woman also was involved in the kidnaping, the FBI said, but declined to say how or to identify her.

The two men were being sought for questioning in the killings of two Detroit-area women — both found slain after disappearances of several days.

One was Janet Stewart, 23, of Dearborn, Mich., whose body was found in a gully Nov. 28 off a country road near Dry Ridge, Ky., 10 days after she vanished from her home. Mrs. Stewart had been strangled.

The other was Eileen Marie Alex, 19, of Allen Park, Mich., whose body was found Nov. 18 by a bird hunter in a field 10 miles south of South Bend, Ind. She was shot twice in the head.

Dean Elson, special agent in charge of the Nevada FBI office, said the pair and their woman companion might still be in Nevada or California. They were believed to be using Mrs. Grisham's car.

Elson said there appeared to be no good reason for the kidnaping. "We just can't make any sense out of it," he said. "I don't think Mrs. Grisham is going to be able to help us either. It just doesn't make sense."

The kidnapers bought stuffed animals for Mrs. Grisham's two grandchildren, Michael McDonald, 6, and Kathy McDonald, 8, before her release, said Harold Smith Jr. of Harolds Club, where Mrs. Grisham has been employed as credit manager for 25 years.

Reagan Names Democrat Head Of Water Plan

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov.-elect Ronald Reagan today appointed William R. Gianelli, 47, a former state engineer and a registered Democrat, to direct California's massive water plan as Water Resources Director.

Gianelli is a partner in the civil engineering firm of Gianelli and Murray of Sacramento. He joined state service in 1946 and was district engineer of the Southern California District of the Water Resources Department when he resigned in 1960.

Gianelli said he will withdraw from partnership in his firm when he takes state office.

In announcements made in Sacramento and Los Angeles, Gianelli said "it will be my aim to work with local people to meet the state's water needs as they develop."

Gianelli worked for the state daring formation of the California Water Plan and the passage of a $1.75 billion bond issue to help finance it.

Gianelli received a civil engineering degree from the University of California at Berkeley in 1941. His field has been hydraulic engineering and his firm specializes in water problems, including water supplies and rights.

Paper Dresses Pass Tests By Fire Officials

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A fire department order for a department store chain to stop selling paper-like dresses has been rescinded, and the dresses are back on sale.

The dresses — priced from $2 to $40 — passed state tests and were found acceptable, said Fire Capt. Jake Dukes. They were ordered removed from sale at Joseph Magnin Stores after a customer questioned whether they were safe.

"The dress tested by officials of the Los Angeles Fire Department was not a paper garment," said Louis Segal, fire prevention chemist - engineer with the state fire marshal's office. "It was a polyester plastic imposed on glass fibers."

"This material is indeed flammable, but no more so than many dresses hanging in closets all over the United States," Segal said.

Russ Rocket Rushing To Lunar Christmas Date

MOSCOW (UPI) — An unmanned Soviet space rocket raced toward a Christmas Day rendezvous with the moon today on a secret scientific mission that may see it make history's first landing and take-off on the Lunar surface.

The rocket, called Luna 13, was launched from Russia's Central Asian space center Wednesday along with an unmanned Cosmos 137 satellite whose orbit put it in the spy-in-the-sky category.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, gave a routine announcement of the Luna shot—the fourth this year aimed at orbiting the moon—and said it would make "further scientific studies of the moon and its close environments."

The agency said everything aboard the probe was functioning normally and a mid-course maneuver was expected tomorrow or Saturday to put it on the final heading for moon orbiting by Dec. 25.

Previous Soviet space missions and the lunar shots have already supplied the Soviets with a wealth of information—pictures, radiation readings and other data—on orbital conditions.

This prompted speculation that Luna 13 may try to vary its orbit or move from orbit to a soft-landing—or even land and take off again.

Any one of these feats would move the Russians ahead in the race with the United States to the moon and add prestige to the Kremlin's lately sagging space record.

It has been more than 21 months since the last Soviet manned space flight. In that time, the United States has successfully carried out 10 two-man Gemini flights and broken every space record on the books.

Young 'Smokers' Must Appear

BERKELEY (UPI) — Eight of 32 youngsters arrested on charges of using marijuana have been ordered to appear before juvenile authorities with their parents and the other 24 would be cited within a few days, police said.

Some of those arrested during the past week were held at Juvenile Hall while others were released to their parents. The youngsters, ranging in age from 11 to 15, included six girls.

Arsonists Hit Civic Leaders

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — The homes of the mayor and other civic leaders of Hartford have been the targets of arsonists the past two months. The latest attack occurred last night.

Mayor George B. Kinsella says the incidents can be related to the city's experimental program to bus Negro and Puerto Rican children from the city to suburban schools.

Other targets have been the homes of the police captain in charge of the detective bureau, the publisher of The Hartford Times, the city manager, as well as two schools, the Urban League office and the house where Harriet Beecher Stowe — author of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" — once lived.

Holy Land's Gates Will Open Briefly

JERUSALEM, Jordan Sector (AP)—Despite tension along the armistice line between Jordan and Israel, Arab officials are preparing to open the barbed wire tomorrow and let more than 5,000 Israeli's into the holy city of Jerusalem for Christmas.

These are the Arab Christians of Israel, cut off from their relatives in the Arab world for the past 18 years of Arab-Israeli conflict.

LINES CLOSED

Throughout the year the armistice lines are closed except to diplomats, U.N. officials and some tourists, and no Arab or Israeli can cross through the Mandelbaum Gate, the only authorized passage through the no-man's land. As at the Berlin Wall, anyone who tries to cross illegally runs the risk of getting shot.

Since 1950, however, under a U.N. agreement, the red and white striped barrier of Mandelbaum has been raised at Christmas to let a selected list of Christian Arabs cross. Each year the number has grown. No matter how high the tension between the two sides, the Christmas crossing has taken place every year.

MORE ARABS

Jordanian officials in the U.N. liaison office said 5,276 applicants would walk across the truce lines tomorrow morning—a record number — and stay in Jordan until Christmas night.

Despite the recent crisis in Jordan, with riots and demonstrations sweeping the western part of the country, the Holy Land returned to tranquility as Christmas preparations began. Thousands of visitors were expected to converge from around the world for the sacred rites at Christ's birthplace in Bethlehem.

North Korean Pilots Found In Hanoi Area

WASHINGTON (AP) — North Korea has joined in the Communist world's support of North Vietnam by supplying a contingent of pilots who apparently are tutoring Hanoi's flyers in aerial operations.

U.S. Intelligence confirmed the presence of 25 to 50 North Koreans in North Vietnam in recent days, it was learned.

Sources said today the North Koreans arrived six to eight weeks ago, but are not known to have participated in any engagements with American planes.

ROLE DOUBTFUL

One source categorized the Koreans as counterparts to U.S. military teams assigned to some foreign countries to provide technical training and assistance. Another, however, suggested they might be in North Vietnam for some training of their own in a combat zone.

The exact role of the North Koreans was not spelled out officially but, government spokesmen said, they have been flying out of Hanoi's main bases.

It is too early to attach significance to the North Korean entry into the war picture, sources said.

North Vietnam has a small air force of Soviet-made planes. The Pentagon credits Hanoi with 15 to 20 MIG21s, 40 to 50 older MIG15s and MIG17s and six old Russian IL28 bombers. There have been unconfirmed reports that the Soviets have provided 100 more planes in recent weeks.

BASES IGNORED

The North Vietnamese planes, however, have not been a major obstacle to U.S. planes striking at military targets in the north. For this reason, and because the administration seeks to avoid escalating the war, the United States has refrained from bombing Hanoi's air bases, officials said.

Officials said North Korea has a competent air force, largely because of Soviet help. The North Korean pilots by and large have been trained by the Soviets and in Soviet planes.

Court Delays Steelworkers Strike Policy

WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal appeals court delayed today—possibly until late tomorrow afternoon—a decision on whether 1,800 striking steelworkers will have to go back to work at a Kokomo, Ind., factory producing materials needed to manufacture wareplanes for Vietnam.

The three-judge U.S. Court of Appeals extended until 5 p.m. (EST) tomorrow a stay in execution of an order by U.S. Dist. Judge Leonard P. Walsh ordering the strike halted for 80 days under the Taft-Hartley law.

The strike at the Union Carbide Corp. plant at Kokomo was called Sept. 30 by the AFL-CIO United Steelworkers of America.

SCHOOL BUS TRAGEDY—This is the scene after a trailer-truck overturned in Windsor, Ont., yesterday and crushed a school bus under tons of sand. Eight children died in the mishap.

Eight Children Die As Sand Buries Bus

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) —Tons of sand spilled from a tractor-trailer onto a school bus loaded with 30 children yesterday, crushing the bus, killing eight youngsters and injuring 13.

The 10 tons of wet sand cascaded onto the bus as the trailer flipped over after turning a corner and scraping the side of the bus at an intersection near Windsor, a city across the Detroit River from Detroit.

"The kids were yelling their heads off. It was pitiful," said Gerald Gemus, 31, of Oldcastle, Ont. Gemus, who arrived at the scene just after the accident occurred, added, "I hope I never see anything like it again."

Children trapped inside the bus were screaming. Some were pinned under broken seats, others trapped by twisted metal or buried under the sand.

For nearly two hours, Gemus and others — policemen, firemen, doctors ambulance drivers and passersby — tore apart ther wreckage with crowbars, acetylene torches and their bare hands.

"We were afraid to use shovels at first, because we might injure some of the kids we couldn't see under the sand," Gemus said.

The tractor-trailer rig was turning a corner when it scraped the bus, which had just discharged two children and was waiting at the traffic signal.

The door on the driver's side was jammed shut, but the bulk of the sand poured into the bus farther back. The roof was pinched in and the frame twisted sideways.

The bus driver, James Levy, 40, father of three, was treated for shock. Levy, who escaped further injury, said he would never drive a school bus again.

Provincial police identified the truck driver as Marcel Lefrancois of Stoney, Ont., who was being detained pending results of an investigation. He was not hurt.

One of the rescuers, Ralph Bondy, 27, of McGregor, Ont., severely burned his left hand as he used a torch to cut through the steel leg of a bus seat under which a boy was trapped.

"I held my hand over the boy's face to protect him from the flame and sparks, and as the torch burst through the steel it seared my hand," Bondy said.

"Kids were screaming, saying, 'save me!' and, 'I'm going to die!' They were in hysterics. A lot of other people were coming up, too, and we started tearing the bus apart, to pull the kids out," he said.

Youths Plan Holiday Tour Of Hospital

More than 10 children, from nine months to 14 years old, will have to spend Christmas in the children's section of Marin General Hospital, but carolers and hospital volunteers are bringing something of Christmas to the hospital this week.

In addition to a party for the children Tuesday, sponsored by the Jack and Jill branch of the Hospital Volunteers Assn., the volunteers will give the children toy-filled stockings on Christmas morning.

Several caroling groups, including 16 girls from Marin County Juvenile Hall ,a group from Sir Francis Drake High School, and the Green Room Players, a San Anselmo dramatic group, have been singing outside the hospital during the week.

Visiting hours for the children on Christmas will be the same as usual, 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and 4 to 7 p.m.

Heifetz Ready To Adhere To Any Courthouse Policy

The county courthouse in San Rafael may be a "white elephant" to developers and downtown businessmen, but not to Harry Heiftez, who has offered $900,000 for the old building and its square.

Heifetz said yesterday that he and his unidentified partner in the offer could "live with whatever the city decides" but that "it would be too bad to give up the lawn" area in front.

He said that despite his preference for keeping the courthouse square as it is, he would develop the property for retail shops, restaurants, "or anything else" required by zoning to be recommended at a Jan. 10 planning commission hearing.

The "white elephant" label was pinned on the century-old structure at a commission hearing Tuesday by Richard Woods of Kentfield, who said he represented a group of potential developers.

At the same session, Burnell Van Dalsem of San Rafael said the courthouse has no historical value and "it would be a monument of stupidity" to retain it.

The chief blow to Heifetz's avowed plans was in the proposed ordinance reviewed by Planning Director Herbert G. Hotchner. The ordinance would ban ground floor office space, central feature of Heifetz's intended use of the original building and its more recent annex.

Despite that possible restriction, however, Heiftez said he had no intention of withdrawing his offer.

He was equally undeterred by doubts voiced by City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen whether the building would meet safety standards and the city building code. Noting gathering sentiment for removal of the courthouse, Heifetz said, "We're just going to have to be super-cautious."

He said, "We are going to retain a competent engineer to see if the building meets earthquake standards and to tell us what we have to do to make it safe." He said he and his associate would also have all the wiring studied and were prepared to do "whatever we must to meet requirements."

Off-street parking requirements of the ordinance pose no problem, according to Heifetz, who said, "There's about 100 spaces on the property now."

Heifetz noted that the courthouse occupied "about 35 per cent of the square now" and that the ordinance would permit coverage up to 50 per cent.

He said, "I'm under the impression the city of San Rafael wants some buildings on that lawn in front. We like it the way it is, but if the city decides it wants retail shops where the lawn is, we'll have to do it."

State Opens Bids On Fair Carnival

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Carnival Time Shows of Sonoma submitted a high bid of $278,000 to operate the 1967 State Fair midway.

The bids were opened yesterday after a court order lifted a ban on the opening. The North American Carnival Assn. had obtained the original restraining order, saying bid specifications hadn't been approved by the fair's board.

The carnival operators also objected to the state's minimum specification that it receive $250,000 for the concession.

Scientists' Salary Ranges Compared

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Economists, statisticians and physicists got the highest median salaries among 243,000 U.S. scientists during 1966, according to a National Science Foundation survey.

The foundation reported yesterday that the median pay for economists was $13,100, for statisticians $12,800, and for physicists $12,500. The lowest median salary, $10,000, was reported by those working in agricultural sciences and linguistics.

Ruby Reported Breathing Easier

DALLAS (UPI) — Doctors reported today Jack Ruby is breathing more easily and the rate at which fluids accumulate in his chest seems to be slowing down.

The report, relayed through the sheriff's office, said Ruby got another pint of blood during the night and spent a comfortable morning.

Larkspur Employees Voted Pay Increases

Larkspur City Council gave most city employees a New Year present last night, approving a five per cent cost of living pay raise.

The employee pay raises will be effective Jan. 1, since the city reviews salaries on a calendar rather than a fiscal year basis.

One employee got a 13 per cent pay raise and a new job classification, and two other employees got only a 2.5 per cent pay raise.

The pay boosts were recommended by City Mgr. Kent B. Bathurst. His salary was not under discussion.

The council set up a new job classification for Building Inspector Ronald Glander, as yet untitled, and boosted Glander.s salary 13 per cent from $721 to $825 a month. Thus Glander was taken from the building inspector's pay range for the newly created post, $745 to $905.

Bathurst reported that Glander is handing planning and zoning duties as well as acting as building inspector. He recommended that the new job be entitled "facilities and zoning administrator."

Councilmen balked at the title of "zoning administrator," and suggested that Bathurst come up with another title. They accepted the job description, which covers the duties now handled by Glander, and the salary range, but not the title.

The two other exceptions were the stenographer - secretary and the police clerk, who were granted a 2.5 per cent pay raise.

Bathurst said the stenographer-secretary has been on the job only a short time and the police clerk received a pay raise in July. The last general pay raise was last Jan. 1.

Bathurst estimated the pay boosts would cost $8,000. Mayor Vaughn Marker said there are funds in the budget to cover the pay raises.

Former Mayor Lesly A. Daveler of 219 Hawthorne Avenue recommended that the council return to the practice of reviewing salaries when the budget for the next fiscal year is being prepared.

Marked backed this proposal and indicated that the councl would be "taking another look" at salaries in May.

Councilmen Earl O'Grady pointed out that besides the cost of living pay raises, city employees receive step increases, 2.5 per cent, on their employment anniversary dates.

The step increases are based on individual merit, Bathurst said. O'Grady contended that government employees are seldom, if ever, turned down on a step increase.

Councilman Neil R. Brixon said the 5 per cent pay raise, recommended by Bathurst, "was as low as I've seen in a good many years, sensible and within reason."

The council postponed action on a recommendation by Bathurst that the city contribute toward a health insurance plan for employees. Councilmen asked Bathurst to report on the costs of various plans.

The council approved changing pay days from the 1st and 15th to the 5th and 20th of each month.

The Larkspur City Council also:

1. Approved the city-county urban thoroughfare agreement whereby the county allocates gasoline revenues for major city road projects on a matching basis. The agreement is for five yeaars with an option for another five years.
2. Accepted an easement from A. A. Tiscornia for extension of Escalle Road.
3. Asked Bathurst to investigate the possibility of having utility companies install underground facilities at no cost to homeowners except the cost of connection to the underground system.
4. Heard a suggestion from Daveler that the city council consider removing commercial zoning from areas that have developed as residential, with a view toward consolidating "rather than stringing out" the commercial area.

Cuban Mother Flees 'Inferno'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A mother of 16 has arrived by refugee airlift from Cuba, accompanied by seven of her children, aged 4 to 13. She said four are prisoners in Cuba, and the others live in New York.

"May God care for my children in the prisons. I have saved the others from the Communist inferno," said the mother, Ercilia Tamayo De Mosqueda, a 50-year-old peasant from the Guantanamo area.

Her husband, Abraham, she said, works at the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo and cannot leave for fear of arrest by Cuban authorities.

Arraignment Held On Four Charges

Henry Ray Worrel, 40, serving time at California Institution for Men at Chino, was arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on three counts of forgery and one count of passing worthless checks. He is to plead to all at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow.

Worrell, convicted in Santa Barbara County of passing bad checks, allegedly forged checks totaling $116 in San Anselmo on July 22, 1960, and passed three bad checks totaling $340 in San Rafael on Oct. 1-2, 1965.

Price Trend Up, Heavy Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed higher today for the second session. Trading was heavy.

The day had all the earmarks of a confused yearend session, but the general price trend was up after Wednesday's rally which snapped off a string of four straight declines.

Gains of fractions to around 3 points among key stocks gave the averages a boost. A minority of losers kept the advance within bounds.

Collins Radio, Vanadium Corp., Sprague Electric, Xerox and Texas Gulf Sulphur rose about 2 points. Anaconda gained 3.

Wilson & Co. was up about 6 on Ling-Temco-Vought's offer of $62 a share for 750,000 shares of the stock. LTV advanced more than 2.

Air Reduction added another 2 points in response to its raised dividend and stock split.

Ahead a point or so were Kennecott, M-G-M, Polaroid, New York Central, Standard Oil (New Jersey), Schering, Singer, Otis Elevator, Western Union and Texas Instruments.

Stocks Advice For Giving To Children

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "I would like to give our three children — ages 17, 19, and 21 — Christmas gifts of high grade stocks and would appreciate your advice. We are interested in longterm growth for them and current return is no consideration. We would like to follow this program year after year for all special occasions." W. C.

A. There is a minimum commission of $6 on purchases of $100 or more so that it would be to your advantage to buy individual issues in multiples of $400 to $500, if you are in a position to do so. I am not going to recommend for your purpose such ultra-fast growth stocks as Polaroid or Xerox, since these are highly volatile and sell at well over 50 times earnings.

I prefer issues with above average growth which seem able to resist any future recession. My selections would include American Hospital Supply; Bristol-Myers and Avon Products. As further suggestions, I like Plough, Inc.; Litton Industries and General Foods.

Q. "I am interested in city or state tax-exempt bonds which you often mention. Are they like E bonds? Is the interest paid monthly or yearly and are they safe?" M. L.

A. There are no bonds except U. S. governments which are as secure as direct obligations of cities or states. These tax-exempt securities normally bear coupons payable semiannually and default on interest or principal is almost unheard of. E bonds are really not comparable. Interest on these obligations is added to their value every six months and is not received until maturity or redemption. Accruals are subject to federal income tax but this levy can be deferred until maturity if you so stipulate. If your bracket is low and you don't need current income, E bonds would free you from all worry, including that of fluctuation.

More Persons Renting Autos

NEW YORK (UPI)—One out of every 100 Americans rents a car today and the proportion is expected to rise to 20 per cent of the population in a few years, according to the head of a leading rental firm.

Major factors in the projected increase are the coming of driving age of the teen-age population and the boom in air travel, with resulting car rentals at airports, says Abe Silverstein, president of Kinney System Rent A Car.

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

Drive To 'Keep McConnell' Should Indeed Be Gratifying

Supt. G. Robert McConnell of Mill Valley School District must be feeling a considerable glow of satisfaction from the "keep McConnell' drive which seems to be gaining strength in his district.

A series of letters to the district board of trustees urged that it try to persuade McConnell to change his mind about leaving the Mill Valley schools at the close of the current school year.

THE LETTERS have come from rather widely diverse groups and individuals. Among those urging "keep McConnell" have been the Professional Council of the Mill Valley Teachers Assn., the board of directors of the Mill Valley Parent-Teacher Assn. Council (which was not unanimous, however), the staff of Marin Terrace School, the board of the Edna Maguire School P-TA (headed by Robert H. Andresen, a former school board member), and Nan Hepp of the Parents Assn. for Neighborhood Schools — who has often been a critic of district policies and practices.

There has not, however, been any public reaction to the letters by either the board of trustees or Superintendent McConnell.

While the letters of appreciation undoubtedly warm McConnell's heart, he has given no hint that they have caused him to waver in the decision to leave.

THERE ARE some who think the decision is not his to change, among them being Mrs. Hepp.

In her PANS "report card" last month, Mrs. Hepp wrote:

"Two members of the board would definitely like to keep him. The other three would have to be convinced. We have been told, 'Letters will help. There should be many names — new names.' "

The letters have poured in. However, the board has set for next Wednesday night a special meeting "to discuss the qualifications desired in the person to succeed Superintendent McConnell." So if the minds to be changed are those of board members, it appears the letters have not changed them.

WHEN McCONNELL announced he would leave the Mill Valley district at the end of next June, he gave no hint of disagreement with the board. He said simply that he felt he had been a long time in the district and needed to move to better himself.

There is an old adage that "a prophet is never without honor save in his own country," and McConnell perhaps feels it applies. He has been superintendent in Mill Valley for nine years, but before that he was assistant superintendent for four years. He grew up in Marin and attended Tamalpais High School.

The rich plums in school administrators' salaries seem to go to those who move about frequently, rather than those who become dedicated to one district.

IF McCONNELL has given no hint of dissatisfaction with the board, neither has the board hinted dissatisfaction with McConnell. But trustees did not go into any "what can we do to make you stay, Bob?" routine on receiving his resignation — at least, not publicly.

Mrs. Hepp is not the only Mill Valleyan who believes the popular superintendent may have been told the board did not plan to renew his contract, which runs out at the end of this school year.

On Sept. 23, the Mill Valley board held an "executive session" — which is governmentese for meeting behind closed doors. Purpose of the meeting was announced as to "discuss employment of personnel."

After the meeting, McConnell said he was "not informed what positions were discussed."

Next regular meeting of the board was Oct. 10. The day after it, McConnell submitted his resignation.

WHETHER THERE was any connection between the closed meeting of Sept. 23 and McConnell's resignation the day following the next regular meeting remains a matter of speculation. From his remark the following day, it would appear the superintendent did not attend the Sept. 23 closed session, although it was to "discuss employment."

At any rate, whatever the circumstances leading to his resignation, the longtime Mill Valley superintendent has the satisfaction of knowing that many parents and teachers want him to stay. A prophet is not always wholly without honor in his own country.

Storm Damages Sequoia Forest

SEQUOIA NATIONAL FOREST (AP) — Forest supervisor Lawrence M. Whitfield said today the record-breaking rainstorm earlier this month caused more than $2 million damage in Sequoia National Forest.

He said all forest roads and trails were damaged by washouts and slides. Some bridges, campgrounds and ranger stations were heavily damaged.

The Tule River district and the area around California Hot Springs were the hardest hit by floodwaters.

Rainfall set some records. Thirty-five inches was reported at the Wishon Station and 30.4 inches at Johnsondale.

Since 1950 when only four African countries were independent, 39 nations have become free, leaving only a handful of colonies.

U.S. Team Scales Antarctic Peaks

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A 10-man American team, led by 36-year-old Nicholas Clinch III of Los Angeles, has succeeded in scaling the 16,360-foot Vinson Massif, highest mountain in Antarctica.

Word of the team's success yesterday and was announced by the National Science Foundation, which sponsored the rugged climb along with the National Geographic Society and the American Alpine Club.

Their son, Rex, who is on holiday leave from Air Force duties at St. Louis, Mo.; their daughter Gail, a deb last year, and their niece, Janet Noah of Pomona, greeted the college-age group. The Noahs will spend the holidays at Dollar Point, Lake Tahoe, where they will be joined by the family of Mitchell Brown of Rio Vista.

Grace Cathedral Is Setting For Hoover-Pomeroy Nuptials

Grace Cathedral in San Francisco was the setting for the wedding on Tuesday of Margaret Chevillette Cochran Cleveland Pomeroy and Herbert Hoover.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Arthur Cleveland Pomeroy of Sausalito and the Seychelles Islands, and the bridegroom is the son of R. Herbert Hoover and the late Mrs. Hoover of New York.

The wedding took place at 7 p.m. with the bride given in marriage by her father. The Rev. John Thornton of Christ Church, Sausalito, consecrated the engagement rites and the Rev. Richard Bolles of Grace Cathedral officiated at the marriage ceremony.

Margaret, or Pinky as she is better known, recited her vows wearing her mother's full length wedding gown of candlelight slipper satin. It was fashioned with fitted bodice and full skirt ending in a court train. The long sleeves were of Valencennes lace, which also edged the neckline. Her long heirloom bridal veil of rose print lace was held by a rosepoint tiara.

Mrs. John H. C. Pomeroy II of Carmel Valley was her sister-in-law's matron of honor, and maid of honor was Elizabeth Solinsky of San Francisco, formerly of Kentfield. Bridesmaids were the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Everett Caes of Dayton, Ohio; the bride's cousin, Susan Honey Plant of San Francisco; and Mrs. John Wells of Santa Barbara.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids wore Empire styled gowns with winter green brocade bodices and slim bone crepe skirts having back panels lined with the green brocade. Over the same kind of dress the matron of honor wore a full length coat of the green brocade.

Best man was Baron Michael von Meyer of San Francisco, a world renowned sculptor. Ushers were the bride's brothers, William A. C. Pomeroy of Sausalito and John H. C. Pomeroy II of Carmel Valley; the bride's cousin, Thomas Plant of San Francisco; Manuel de Arce of San Francisco, well known Spanish artist; Geoffrey Lewis of San Rafael, Bay Area artist; Dr. Lester A. Luz of San Francisco and Gordon Howell of Berkeley.

A reception was held following the wedding at the home of the bride's parents in Sausalito. On their return from a wedding trip the couple will live in San Francisco.

The bride's schools are the Katharine Delmar Burke in San Francisco and Ashley Hall in Charleston, S. C., and she was graduated from the University of California, where she was affiliated with Alpha Phi sorority.

She made her debut in 1961 at a large party at the family home in Sausalito and also in Spartanburg, S. C., her mother's former home. With her marriage Pinky will give up her membership in the Spinsters.

She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Paul B. Case of Sausalito and Mrs. Arthur Cleveland of Spartanburg.

The bridegroom was graduated cum laude from Maryville College in Maryville, Tenn., and served with the U.S. Marine Corps as a first lieutenant in the Korean War. He is president of the California Heritage Council and director of the Pomeroy Galleries in San Francisco, where he met Pinky. He was a protege of the late pianist, Victor Wittgenstein.

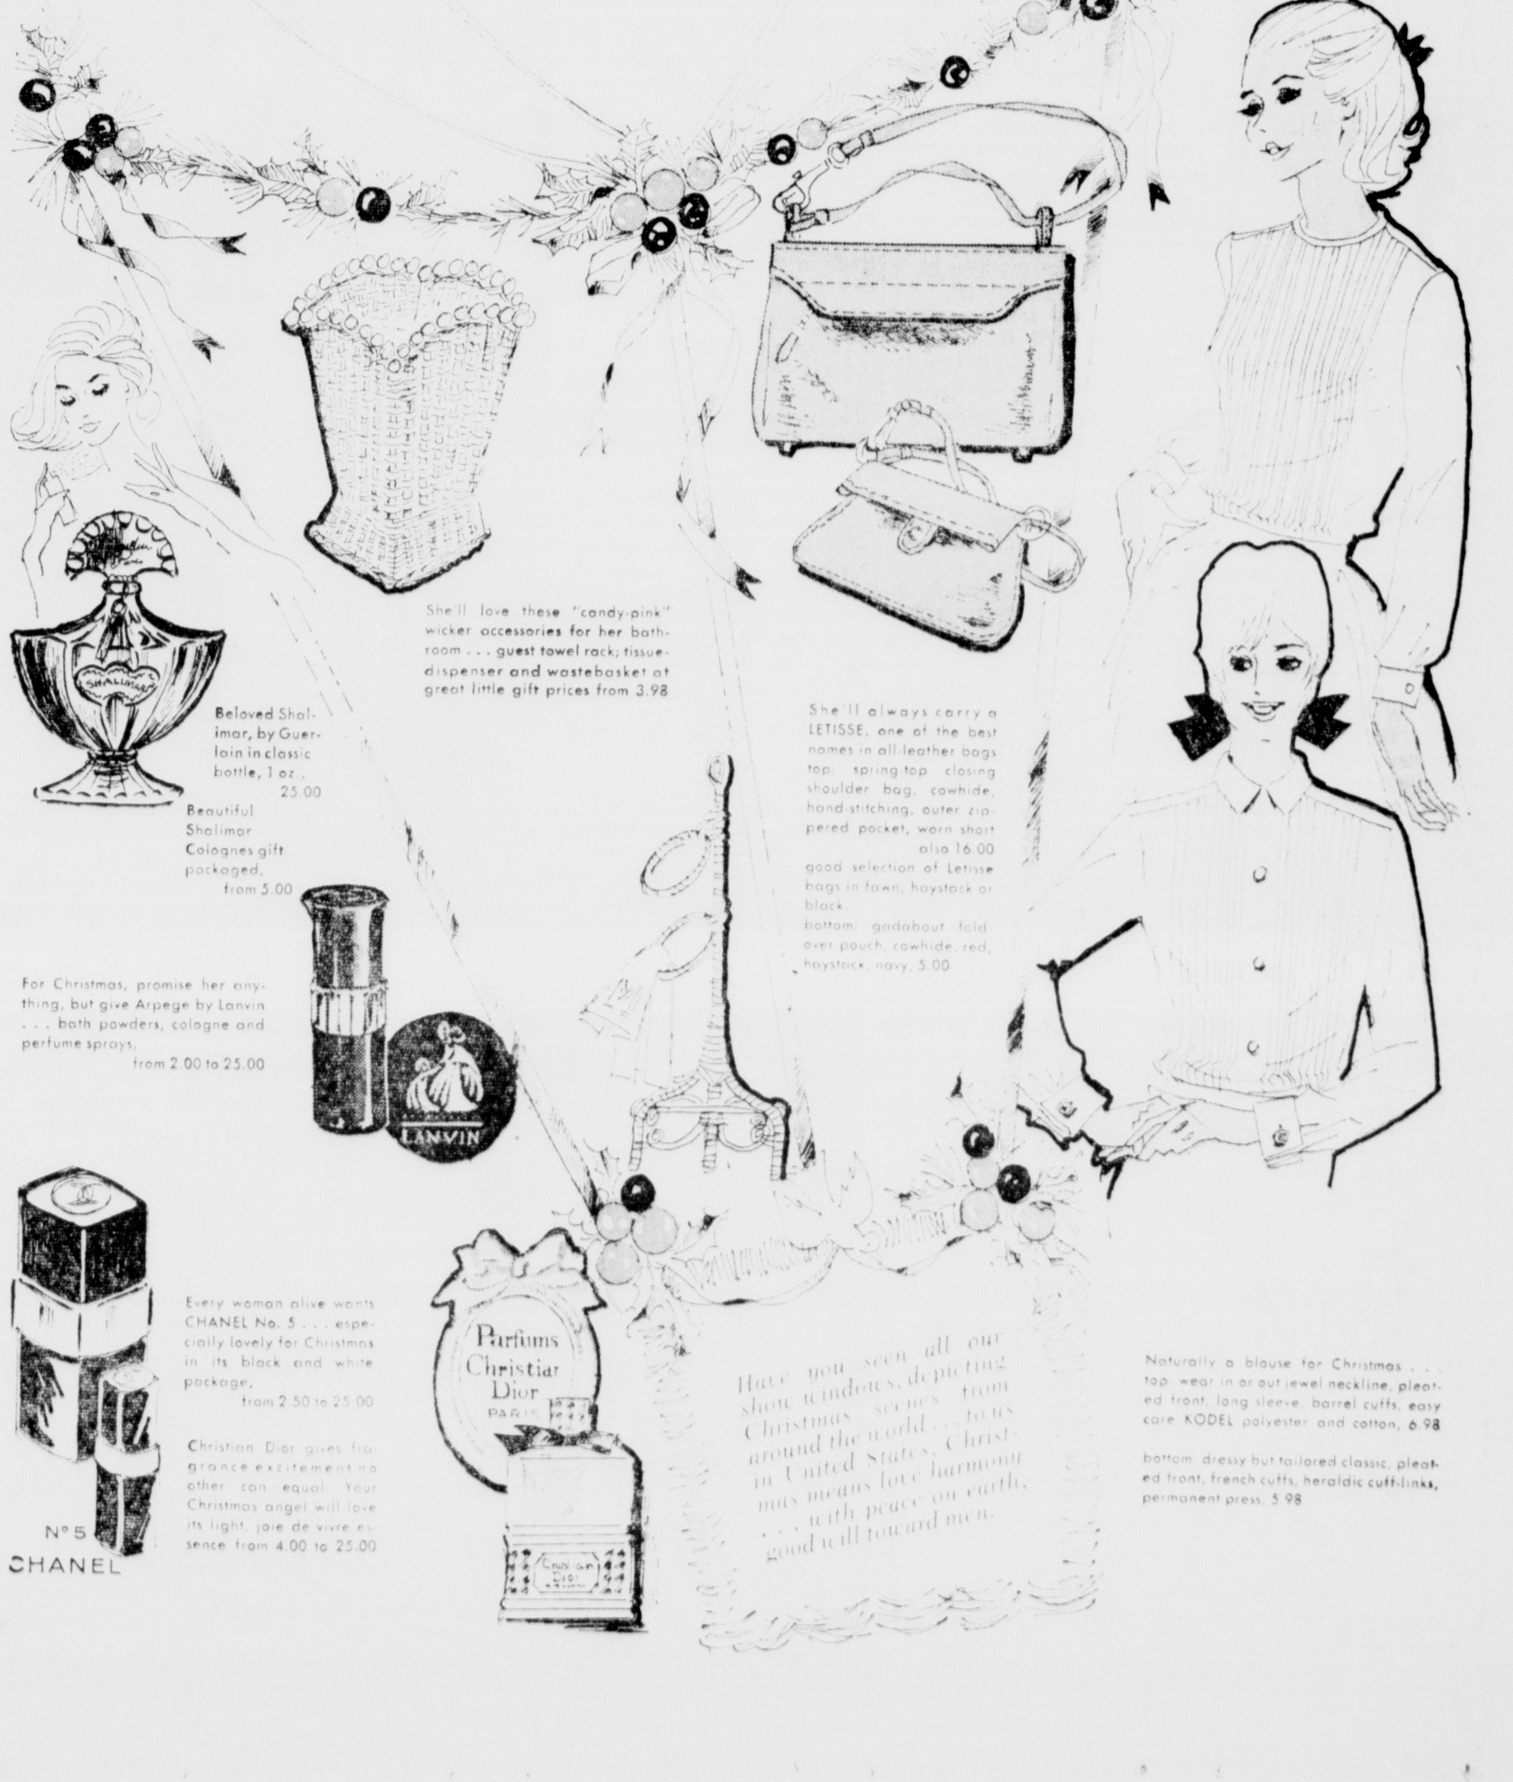

He has another sister, Mrs. Allen Bobson of Livingston, N.J

Grocery Prices Will Climb Despite 'Women On Warpath'

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite boycotts and picketing, the government and housewives are agreed on one thing: Food prices will climb higher in 1967.

Housewives in Phoenix set off a nationwide protest movement last fall when they banded together in an attempt to force down food prices. They even baked their own bread.

In Denver, the Housewives for Lower Food Prices boycotted major chain supermarkets, then called off pickets after prices fell.

In Dallas, they formed a Women on the Warpath committee and soon all across the country there were housewives against rising prices and mad mothers and fighting fathers boycotting food stores.

Price wars broke out in Portland, Ore., and Chicago.

The reasons were obvious. In January, pork was the highest in 17 years and bacon was $1.09 a pound. In February, a blizzard cut supplies and raised prices in the East and Midwest. In April Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman predicted prices might decline as much as 10 per cent by fall. In June flour prices went up and suddenly bread cost 7.5 per cent more than it did in January. Milk went up 7.8 per cent. In July heat and the airline strike shriveled supplies of fruits and vegetables. And in August food prices were the highest since 1954.

The New York City markets commissioner blamed the U.S. Department of Agriculture for higher prices. Freeman blamed the middleman. Grocery stores blamed bakers. Bakers blamed flour millers. Flour millers blamed wheat growers. And wheat growers blamed the weather.

A trade group, the American Institute of Food Distribution, Inc., blamed inflation.

"We don't like to feel we're being taken to the cleaners and we're tired of hearing about some rich, invisible middleman who's causing prices to go up," said Mrs. Jay S. Threlkeld, a spokesman for the Denver women.

"The housewife is wrong," said the president of Campbell Soup Co., W. B. Murphy. "The food store is a handy goat for the housewife. The guilty party is the economy, with its rising cost pressures."

In February, wholesale food prices were 14.9 per cent higher than the previous year. In December they were 4 per cent lower than in the holiday season of 1965, when meat prices were beginning to soar.

The Agriculture Department maintains food bills will be up again in 1967, but not as much as the 6 per cent increase for 1966.

Beef, pork and veal prices are expected to begin rising again next spring.

Wife Becomes Businesswoman Out Of Boredom

By WILLIAM D. LAFFLER

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mary MacKenzie became a successful businesswoman because she got tired of doing nothing while her husband was on a temporary assignment almost half way around the world.

Mrs. MacKenzie started a clothing store for expectant mothers in downtown Los Angeles. It was the beginning of what was to become the largest individually owned chain of maternity shops in the United States.

The venture was so successfull that Mary's husband, a Scotsman named Alex MacKenzie, gave up his job with an oil company to become president of their firm, Motherhood Maternity Shops, and they are now regarded as one of the country's most effective husband-and-wife business teams.

Mrs. MacKenzie, born in Egypt, decided to go into business because she liked to be among people and considered Americans "the most friendliest people in the world."

"We tried to make our maternity clothes attractive," Mrs. MacKenzie said in an interview. "We used bright colors and styles that would appeal to women. A lot of our customers today are women who are not expecting children. They come to us because they like our stylings."

Mrs. MacKenzie now spends most of her time in designing clothes for the chain, leaving administrative duties to her husband even though she studies commerce and business administration at Los Angeles City College and UCLA.

"American women are the best-dressed women in the world," Mrs. MacKenzie said, indicating she felt they did not have to be told by Paris fashion czars how to dress properly.

The first of her shops was founded in 1952. Fourteen years later, the network has 56 shops and expects to grow at the rate of six shops a year.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Colleen Feels Her Punishment Has Gone Just A Bit Too Far

DEAR HELEN:

I am an Irish lass, almost 16. During the past summer, I have had a streak of bad luck that I can't break. In May, I went to a Sunday school picnic; a bee stung me and I got blood infection.

In June, my parents took a western vacation and a heathen rattlesnake bit my ankle. In July, I visited in a small town. While riding the rear seat on a motorcycle on a country road at about 60 the machine hit a washout and I flew off. My Saint provided tall grass and rain-soaked earth for my landing spot. I recovered in 12 days.

August brought a doubleheader. I was a passenger in a speedboat when it overturned in 75 feet of water and I dang near drowned.

Then, I was horseback riding at a full gallop when the horse shied and I went on to a miserable landing. In the confusion, the horse carelessly stepped on my left foot. I started school on crutches.

In September, I was bitten by a "safe dog," scratched by a "friendly cat," and then I laid my schoolbooks down in a truck and forgot them until after the truck left. We chased it 10 miles —and caught it. I sort of got a kick out of this but mother didn't. She got a ticket for speeding. This was bad for me.

Last week, I was on a ladder putting a storm shutter on a second-story window. I had the shutter in place and started down when the ladder broke. During my fall I landed on a narrow, slanting porch roof and rolled over the edge. I grabbed the drain spout and it went down with me and broke my fall but a sharp piece of tin cut my hand and it took six stitches to close the wound.

I am not always guilty of saintly living but I feel this punishment is being overdone. Can you suggest a way to break the spell?

—UNHAPPY COLLEEN

DEAR COLLEEN:

Honey, I think you'd better trade in your leprechaun on a new model!—H.

DEAR HELEN:

I have a very odd problem. I actually burst into some sort of hysterical tears and have to run and hide every time my family starts with their little annoying habits.

My dad jingles the change in his pocket constantly. My mom snaps her chewing gum, and my brother sniffs and refuses to blow his nose. These things drive me crazy. I can't bring myself to tell my mother and dad to stop. I feel disrespectful and don't want to hurt anybody's feelings. What can I do?

—GOING OUT OF MY TREE

DEAR GOOMT:

Tell them! You'll be doing your family a favor, as well as saving yourself from a nerve storm. And don't think this is unusual. A repeated sound — whether dripping faucet or noise —makes most people edgy.—H.

Shopping in the Village with Carol King and Pat Reynolds

Town & Country Village

MERRY, MERRY CHRISTMAS!

"God Rest Ye Merry, Gentlemen" . . . (and weary lady shoppers, too!). When days are just too rushed to do justice to family or company dinners, we take home a casserole dinner from L'ENTREE. A varied menu to choose from, devised by that kitchen wizard, Louis Reimers . . . and each casserole is delicious. (We must have tasted them all by now, and can safely say, they are consistently superb.)

"And a partridge in a pear tree" . . . ALBERTA OF MARIN'S artfully artificial arrangements are just lovely. She has many gift items for around $5.00 . . . handmade ornaments, enchanting miniature flower arrangements, and gift soaps arranged as wreaths and such. One of us is sort of a "nut" about music boxes, and is fascinated by the Swiss music box turntable for ALBERTA'S dainty miniature trees.

"Up On The Housetop" . . . (and under the roof) we found a new management at BERNSTEIN'S DELICATESSEN. This friendly eatery is now serving real New York pastrami and corned beef, along with their regular favorites. BERNSTEIN'S caters to parties and banquets . . . (be sure to give them at least a day's notice for party orders). By all means, when you're next in BERNSTEIN'S, ask about their tray service.

"Our stockings were hung by the chimney with care" . . . in hopes that St. Nick will fill them with gifts from MONKEY BUSINESS. Feminine fashions at this shop run the gamut from suburban sportswear to "swishy" chiffon cocktail and dinner dresses. MONKEY BUSINESS' gift boutique c'est magnifique et tres unique . . . perfectly beautiful items such as antique English silver or imported ceramic pieces . . . sparkling crystal and handsome leather accessories. Gift wrapping here to make even the most modest gift look very, very special.

"Chestnuts roasting by an open fire" . . . and a fireside bright with gifts from THE HEARTH SHOP. Good-looking decorative accessories as well as practical fireplace equipment . . . excellent selection of sizes and styles in grates and free-standing firescreens. Lots of long-burning, colorful "fire cones" and baskets of bark packaged as gifts . . . bellows that do their job and look attractive too. Handsome hearths start here.

"Here we go a-wassailing . . ." Whether filling The Wassail Bowl or gifting friends, VILLAGE LIQUORS is sure to offer just the right items. Beautiful Holiday packaging this year on always-welcome, last minute gift bottles. For holiday entertaining, plan with Dan at VILLAGE LIQUORS . . . he can advise you on "how much of what" to have on hand.

"The Grinch Who Stole Christmas"...overlooked the fabulous collector's books and limited editions at CAPRICORN BOOKS. One group particularly caught our eye . . . reproductions of priceless originals . . . fine binding, with ribbon tie . . . each in its own felt-lined box. These are, "Sir Francis Drake" by Sir Francis Drake, circa 1619 . . . "The Discoverie of Guiana" by Sir Walter Raleigh, circa 1596 . . . and "The Historie of Virginia" by John Smith, circa 1624. Beautifully illustrated and containing interesting old maps, these books would be equally appropriate for history buffs.

"O Come Little Children . . ." and bring your parents. The HICK'RY PIT *welcomes families in an informal, friendly way. Wonderful menu here to appeal to everyone, reasonable prices and efficient service. "Tis the season to be jolly" and KUBLAI KHAN is the perfect setting for jovial, festive meals. Menu here is fit for an emperor . . . decor and table appointments are equally elegant. The holiday hostess appreciates the varied cuisine at KUBLAI KHAN . . . American, Polynesian and Chinese dishes to please all of her guests.

". . . my true love gave to me—Five Golden Rings" . . . found among trinkets and treasures at VILLAGE JEWELERS. A truly outstanding collection of charms in a wide price range . . . fine watches and clocks for both men and women . . . lustrous pearls in necklaces, bracelets and pins . . . and much, much more. (Excellent selection of gifts for children here, by the way . . . moderate priced watches, add-a-pearl necklaces, etc.)

"Joy To The World" . . . and to weary Santas. There's help in sight at THE LITTLE DAISY. Not only do they have lots of great last-minute gift ideas, but efficient (and sympathetic service). You can "collapse" over a cup of coffee . . . tell the salesgirl your gift problems . . . and let LITTLE DAISY take over from there. They'll select just the right gift, have it beautifully wrapped (free service) and even see that it is mailed for you. Many "little gifts" at this shop, so all this service could be easy on your wallet as well as your tired feet.

Our typewriter ribbons and pens are inkless,
Arches have fallen and our minds are thinkless.
To all our friends we wish Holiday Tidings,
Hope we've helped Marin Santas with these Yuletide writings.
Merry Christmas to you and yours,

Marin Teens Run Young Art Shop

By GLENN BECKER

People may think teen-agers are "goofing off" a lot, and for that and a few other reasons Kim Schwarcz and her friends are running a "young art" store in San Francisco's Ghirardelli Square.

Kim, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Schwarcz of 18 Wray Avenue, Sausalito, works with four other teen-agers on the third floor of the Square's Mustard Building, where they have been selling art works by themselves and by other teens since Dec. 10.

One of her cohorts is Paul Goldsmith, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Goldsmith of 21 Birch Street, Mill Valley. Kim and Paul are seniors at Tamalpais High School.

The others are Aiko and Xavier Lanier and Lisa Lee of San Francisco.

Displayed in their store, which will close Dec. 30, are paintings, prints, ceramics, jewelry, tapestry and other art works by 30 teen-agers, half of them from Marin County.

The whole idea is Kim Schwarcz's and she explains it thusly: "We are doing it so we can show people what teen-agers are doing in art today, and so they can see kids aren't just goofing off and are serious in many things they're doing."

She got the idea in September when she accompanied her best friend's family, the William Roths of Sausalito, on a short trip to Washington, D.C. Roth happens to own Ghirardelli Square.

After mentioning it to Roth, "I forgot about it, but in mid-October the manager of Ghirardelli Square called me to see if I could set it up."

The managers of the Square are Carree and Stuart Rose, who formerly ran the Trade Fair in Sausalito. They produced the adult adviser Kim requested in San Francisco architect Albert Lanier, whose children help Kim manage the store.

They recruited the 200-odd art works in the store by writing letters to Marin and San Francisco high schools and by calling their friends.

Overhead costs have been about $100, with Lanier supplying $100 worth of uncut lumber which he will be able to use again. Kim reports about $100 in sales thus far. The store takes a 30 per cent commission on sales ("We're making no profit") and a sixth of that goes to Ghirardelli Square.

Halfway through the novel experience, Kim feels that "if we do it a second time it will be a lot easier. We didn't get quite the response we'd hoped for."

One reason for this, she feels, is that "our one outlet — high school teachers — didn't really care about it. Most of them did not announce it or encourage the kids to do their own art work and, if it's good, to bring it in and showcase it."

She is also somewhat disappointed in the response of the adults who visit the store.

"A lot of adults come in. They think it's a fabulous idea, but they usually don't buy anything," she concluded with traces of both amusement and annoyance.

LEE RADZIWILL
Starting career

Jacqueline's Sister Plans Stage Debut

LONDON (AP)—The dark-eyed young woman in the salmon pink above-the-knee dress tossed her head and said with just a little bravado in her low, husky voice:

"I'm taking a terrible risk. But I think I shall make it."

The 33-year-old sister of Jacqueline Kennedy, wife of Prince Stanislas Radziwill and mother of two children, will stride onto the boards of the Ivanhoe Theater in Chicago next June to play the leading role of Tracy Lord in "The Philadelphia Story."

She flies to Chicago from her London home June 9 for rehearsals and the play opens June 20 for a four-week run.

The role is that of a wealthy young heiress, not exactly foreign to her as it wasn't to Katherine Hepburn when she made it famous.

"I've always wanted to be an actress," Lee Radziwill said in an interview. "At school and in college I did some things. But then I married, and then I had children, and then there were the political years."

The "political years" were those when John F. Kennedy, her brother-in-law, was President of the United States and Lee Radziwill was her sister's confidante and frequent traveling companion.

"Now I feel I can make a good try," she said. "But for heaven's sake, do not call me Princess Radziwill. I am Lee Radziwill."

What does the Kennedy clan think of this new venture? Mrs. Radziwill balked at answering. She would say only one thing about her intimate association with the Kennedys:

Tomales Board Names High School Planner

Dr. Samuel Kermoian of San Francisco State College, a curriculum consultant to the San Francisco City Schools, will assist in planning the proposed new high school for the Tomales High School District.

He was named by Marshall and Bowles, the architects, to work with them and the school staff in getting educational ideas for the proposed school.

"The new school will not be an ordinary school, but will be exciting in its educational concepts," Richard Marshall, one of the architects, told the citizens election committee, according to Mrs. Lois Parks, committee secretary.

He said the educational program will call for "a completely flexible building in the use and size of the rooms to meet the needs of advanced students and those in special educational classes."

The architect and school staff are holding workshops to get the ideas to work into the plans.

The citizens committee will meet again Jan. 5, Mrs. Parks said.

Officers Named For Planned Mill Valley Artistic Center

A group of Mill Valley residents planning a center for performing arts have elected Sali A. Lieberman as chairman of a nine-man board to direct the proposed center, publicity chairman Irene Pritzker said yesterday.

Also elected to the board were Arne Anderson, Carl Mosher, Helen Dreyfus, Nona Dennis, Maxine White, Lois Backlund, Joel Andrews and Miss Pritzker.

Drama, concert and film programs are to begin in January at the golf clubhouse. Andrews will present four concerts, Irving Cohen and Lela Smith will present films, and Lieberman has chosen "The Physicists" by Friedrich Durrenmatt and "Epitaph for George Dillon" by John Osborne for the first drama productions.

Sunset Publisher Set As Speaker

L. W. Lane, publisher of Sunset Magazine, will be featured speaker Jan. 20 at the quarterly executive board meeting of the Redwood Empire Assn. in Tiburon.

The conference will be held in Tiburon Lodge.

Lane is president of the Lane Magazine and Book Co. of Menlo Park, a member of the State Tourism and Visitors Services Commission, a director of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce and San Francisco Convention and Visitors Bureau.

Advertising and promotional programs for 1967 will be explored at the Tiburon session.

Ike Still Not Sure Of Yule Homecoming

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, described as "a very good patient," is continuing to make an excellent recovery from his Dec. 12 gall bladder surgery.

A spokesman at Walter Reed Army hospital said yesterday it was still uncertain, however, whether the 76-year-old general would be released in time to spend Christmas at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm. His doctors want to complete "a total medical determination" before letting him go, he said.

'Un Chant d'Amour' Film Ban Is Upheld

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The State Supreme Court has upheld a lower court ruling banning showings of the Jean Genet film "Un Chant d'Amour" in California.

The Supreme Court, in a 4-3 decision, agreed yesterday with the District Court of Appeal, which said that the 30-minute silent film concerning sexual relations of four inmates and prison guard "is nothing more than hard-core pornography."

The Daimler motor car astounded the world in 1889 by racing down roads at the then incredible speed of 11 miles per hour.

Heaven Case By Hallinan Gets Setback

Atty. Vincent Hallinan of Belvedere has lost another round in his five-year legal battle to secure a court decision on whether there is proof that Heaven and Hell exist.

The State Court of Appeal in San Francisco yesterday upheld, without dissent, a Superior Court decision which threw out of court the lawyer's suit against the Roman Catholic Church.

Hallinan promptly said he would take the case to the State Supreme Court and, if necessary, to the U.S. Supreme Court.

In the long-drawn-out case, Hallinan has claimed the church used fraud to persuade the late David F. Supple to leave the bulk of his $200,000 estate to Roman Catholic charities.

The appellate court ruled that "inquiry into the truth or falsity of religious beliefs is foreclosed by constitutional guarantees of religious freedom."

Toy Poodle Missing

Christine Carolyn Sanchez, 930 West California Avenue, Tamalpais Valley, told sheriff's officers her six-months-old toy poodle, Alfie, is missing or stolen. The dog disappeared yesterday while she was shopping at Dolan's Corner.

In New York State foxes are currently the chief carrier of rabies, though bats are also responsible for much of it.

Powell Probe May Result In Criminal Charge

WASHINGTON, (AP) — A member of the subcommittee investigating spending by Rep. Adam Clayton Powell's offices predicted today that the group would recommend criminal prosecution of the Harlem Democrat.

Rep. William L. Dickinson of Alabama, the senior Republican member of the special subcommittee, said he based this prediction on testimony already received.

In a statement issued by his office here, Dickinson predicted the subcommittee "would recommend criminal prosecution of Congressman Powell in at least three areas." He did not specify the areas.

Dickinson's statement came as Powell was reported to be switching strategy in his fight to keep his congressional seat.

Kaiser Hospitals' Workers Given Raise

OAKLAND (AP) — Kaiser Foundation's hospital and clinic workers have been given pay raises of from $5 to $103 a month, a Hospital Workers Union spokesman said yesterday.

The raises were granted the workers, including orderlies, licensed vocational nurses and medical technicians, after a union request made in view of recent raises granted registered nurses at Kaiser hospitals and others in the Bay Area.

Reagan Inaugural Planners Line Up Concerts, Singers

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Some 22,000 invitations have been mailed from Los Angeles for the inaugural ceremonies for Governor-elect Ronald Reagan, from Jan. 2-5.

The inaugural committee announced Marilyn Horne, one of the world's leading mezzo-soprano opera stars, will sing an aria from Semiramide by Rossini at the inaugural concert on the night of Jan. 4. Jack Benny, fiddler-comedian, will play two numbers in his lesser known role as a virtuoso violinist.

Music will be played by the San Francisco symphony orchestra under three directors, Josef Krips, musical director of the orchestra, Henry Lewis, young conductor of Los Angeles and husband of Miss Horne, and Harry Newstone, of the Sacramento symphony.

Music for the inaugural ball at the state fair grounds on the night of Jan. 5 will be provided by Freddy Martin and his orchestra and Manny Harmon and his group.

Other musical groups performing during the week will include the Sacramento city college choir, 561st Air Force Band, California National Guard, Sacramento State College marching band and a 170-piece high school honor band-and-choir from the Sacramento area.

Barbara Hutton Rift Is Denied

NEW YORK (AP)—Woolworth heiress Barbara Hutton's seventh husband, Laotian Prince Raymond Doan Vinh da Champacak, denies that Miss Hutton is divorcing him.

He says small-town gossip led to the recent report of an impending divorce.

The prince said he was on his way to Mexico City to rejoin his wife, who also has denied any plans to seek a divorce. He said he and the heiress are happily married.

Extra Time Given On Drunken Driving

James Hardy, 21, serving a year in county jail for battery against a sheriff's deputy, was given five days in jail by Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving.

Judge Goldstein ordered the term to run concurrently with Hardy's present sentence. Hardy, of San Francisco, was arrested by sheriff's deputies in Marin City on Dec. 8 for drunken driving while on the jails' work furlough program. His work furlough privileges were cancelled.

Kentfield Artist's Slides To Archives

Kentfield artist Ada Garfinkel has donated slides and photographs of her "Kings and Customs" series of collages to the archives of Bienal de Sao Paulo, Brazil, an international coordinating body for art exhibitions.

ESCAPES WITH MINOR SCRATCHES

Hamilton Air Force Base hospital workers rushed Huguette B. Graves, 35, of 830 San Jose Boulevard, Novato, to the base hospital following a crash on Highway 101 last night. But when they got there, she was found to be suffering only minor scratches. California Highway Patrol said she was driving north when her car hit another driven by Joseph White of San Francisco on St. Vincent's Hill. White's car was overturned by the impact, but he and a passenger were not seriously hurt. After the crash the woman's car continued on down a steep embankment.

Burglars Wipe Out Family's Tree Packages

The Yuletide mood of a Tamalpais Valley family has been dampened with burglary of their home including theft of all gifts from beneath the Christmas tree.

Sheriff's officers said some $3,185 worth of clothing, kitchen appliances and other items — plus the gifts — were taken from the home of Mrs. and Mrs. Angelo Allegra at 724 Alta Vista Road.

Allegra reported he and his wife, Edna, returned from shopping about 9:30 p.m. Tuesday. When Mrs. Allegra went to prepare toast for the children's evening meal, she discovered the toaster was gone.

Also missing, he said, were a $1,500 mink stole owned by his wife, a radio, a $500 gold stick pin, a television set, a tape recorder, silverware — and all the gifts from under the tree.

Officers said entry was apparently through an open front door, as no evidence of force was found. Allegra said he and his wife entered through a rear door and did not notice the other door ajar until discovery of the loss.

Burglars also struck two neighboring homes in Marin Cineighboring homes in Marin City. Deputies said front doors of the residences of Samuel M. of Barry Warner, 62 Buckelew Street, were entered by forcing locks.

Elkins reported a $400 stereophonic tape recorder and a power drill missing. Warner said a stereophonic phonograph and two speakers were taken.

No Arrest Problem

GIJON, Spain (UPI) — Police didn't have any problem nabbing the man who broke into the local pub. He was found fast asleep on the bar, an empty brandy bottle on his chest.

Santa Gets 1,600 Calls From Marin

If Santa Claus slept late this morning, who could blame him? Marin County children kept him hopping in three places at once last night for two hours, enough to tire any out-of-shape old elf.

But Santa will be back on the phones again from 7 to 9 p.m. today at the Independent-Journal in San Rafael, Western Telephone Co. in Novato and Tamalpais High School in Mill Valley, to hold up his end of the ninth "Call Santa" project.

Last night nearly 1,600 youngsters took advantage of the annual service of the I-J and the Junior Chambers of Commerce of San Rafael, Novato and Mill Valley. Santa Claus received almost 700 calls at the I-J and more than 400 each at Mill Valley and Novato.

Fortunately, he had help in San Rafael, where Mrs. Santa Claus relieved him for a few calls when the traffic grew too heavy for Santa to bear. She was naturally a big hit, as were the elves who aided their boss in Novato.

In fact, the entire North Pole family got into the act. Some of Santa's callers thought that bells they heard ringing in the background sounded suspiciously like telephones, but they were well satisfied when Santa told them they were hearing the bells on his reindeer.

Most of the callers had their minds on what they would like to see under their Christmas trees Sunday morning. A few took time to put in a good word for a sister or brother, while one was distracted enough from his business with Santa Claus to shout, "Hey, Mom, he knew I was in San Rafael!"

That's Santa Claus for you.

Teen Hangout's License Revoked

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Police Commission has revoked the entertainment license of Pandora's Box, a teen-age night club on the Sunset Strip.

The commission ruled yesterday that non-alcoholic beverages may still be served there, but dancing and entertainment will be prohibited.

Pandora's Box, a meeting place during recent teen-age disturbances on the Strip, is scheduled to be razed next year in order to widen the street nearby.

Police Find Missing Girls

Two ten-age girls missing since Dec. 12 from the Sunny Hills home in San Anselmo were found yesterday and early today by San Rafael police and taken to Marin Juvenile Hall, but not before one of them inflicted several cuts on her forearms with a razor blade and had to be treated at Marin General Hospital.

One was found yesterday being driven away from a San Rafael address police had been checking for several days. Early today the other was found hiding under a sink in the home of a 21-year-old man who had been found with the other girl.

Police handcuffed the second girl, but en route to juvenile hall she took a razor blade hidden on her body and slashed herself several times. After a stop at the hospital, she was delivered to juvenile hall. Both girls were booked for violation of probation.

Early Crime Calendar

Criminal calendar in Marin Municipal Court will be at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow rather than the usual 1:30 p.m. for the Christmas holiday weekend convenience of attorneys and the public, Judge Peter Allen Smith, presiding, said today.

One New Lead In Identifying Woman's Body

Sheriff's officers today had only a single new lead to identity of a woman whose body was found Saturday on Tiburon peninsula — a report that a woman answering her description stayed in a Tiburon motel about three months ago.

Undersheriff Sidney Stinson, who declined to give the name under which the woman registered, said she spent two or three nights at Tiburon Lodge, 1651 Tiburon Boulevard. She gave a San Francisco motel as her previous address, he said, and a check of that motel and the name she used is being made.

Motel employees said the woman remained in her room most of her stay, Stinson added.

The body was found down an embankment off Paradise Drive last Sunday. Cause of death is unknown, but toxicology test results are due in 10 days. An autopsy indicated she died about three months ago.

Rent Subsidy Helps Retirees

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Housing and Urban Development has made the nation's first payment under the new rent subsidy program.

The $819 check will help pay the rent of 13 elderly persons living in the Lorain, Ohio, Firelands Retirement Center. Names of the beneficiaries were withheld under government regulations.

To qualify, a single person must have income of $2,600 or less and a married couple $3,600 or less.

Hall Of Justice Dollars Gap Is Predicted

Despite the firm offer of $900,000 for purchase of the county courthouse in downtown San Rafael, there may well be a gap of $100,000 in financing of the Hall of Justice which will have to be closed by property taxes.

Developer Harry Heifetz has offered $900,000 and put up a 10 per cent deposit for the purchase. County supervisors Tuesday called for bids to be opened at 2 p.m. on Feb. 17, and there appeared a chance Heifetz would not be the sole bidder.

BROKER DUE FEE

The bid document approved by the board calls for a 5 per cent brokerage fee. This will cut the county's realization to $855,000 if Heifetz is the buyer, County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell noted today.

In addition, the document gives the buyer the option of taking possession July 1, 1967, and charging the county one per cent a month rental until county offices are moved into the new Hall of Justice.

Mitchell made a rough estimate of the rental cost, offsetting it with interest income from early purchase payment and property taxes once the land goes into private hands. This comes to a net cost of $80,000, reducing the funds to be realized toward the Hall of Justice cost to $775,000.

NEW COST TOTAL

Needed to complete financing for the $11.25 million Hall of Justice is $880,000, Mitchell said. This is a newly computed figure, the budget for this year having the need at 942,000. Mitchell explained that favorable interest rates that Treasurer-Tax Collector Stanley J. Fontez has been able to get on deposit of Hall of Justice bond money pending disbursement have reduced the need. The money is earning an average of 5.5 per cent.

Also, progress payments to contractor Robert E. McKee, Inc., have been slower than scheduled, Mitchell said.

But despite the reduction in need, there is still a gap of $105,000.

"I still think the Heifetz offer is a good one," Mitchell said, "certainly the best thing so far. Also there is a chance there may be some higher bids."

Marin Water Directors Vote Pay Hikes, Call For Closed Session

By M. ELIZABETH JOHNSTON

Directors of Marin Municipal Water District changed their minds about closing their session yesterday to hear a salary survey, declared they intend to discuss Gen. Mgr. William R. Seeger's salary behind closed doors.

Seeger's salary was raised to $25,000 per year only a few months ago, becoming effective at the new figure on Oct. 1. In 1965 he was being paid $21,336 per year.

As Seeger started to report on an annual wage survey made by the district's staff in conjunction with the Bay Area salary survey committee in Oakland, Director Robert G. Anderson recommended the board close its session to discuss the report.

Their attorney Robert W. Elliott, said he believed recent rulings on the Brown Act did not permit general discussion of salaries in closed session. Anderson then said he would be willing to discuss the report in open session.

Seeger said the report showed Marin Municipal Water District employee's salaries were almost 5 per cent lower than other municipal salaries in the bay area.

Board members voted unanimously to raise salaries 5 per cent for all employees next year, except the general manager, whose job would be considered separately.

President William A. Marcus then asked Attorney Elliott if it would be permissible to discuss Seeger's job in a closed session. Elliot said it would, in his opinion.

An Independent-Journal reporter in the audience protested there had been no notice given of a closed session. Elliot said no notice was necessary as long as the regular meeting had been announced and that the board had the right to discuss special personnel performance in a closed session.

Director Anderson said he felt the board was not obliged to conduct meetings just to please the press. He said he felt some articles in the Independent-Journal on violations of the Ralph M. Brown Act by government bodies had been "wrong."

However, Presidente Marcus said, "We not only want to act legally, but we want to preserve a good image in the press as well." He recommended the board postpone discussion on Seeger's position until January "to keep everybody happy for Christmas." He promised to announce the closed session 24 hours in advance to comply with the law.

Director Leo M. Stanley said the closed session would not be anything unusual. He said the board had been evaluating the general manager's position in closed sessions for several years.

A recent decision by Judge Spurgeon Avakian of Alameda County Superior Court dealt with closed session of a public body for personnel evaluation and classification.

The Oakland Civil Service Board planned to hold a closed meeting to discuss classification and assignment of police officers. The Oakland Tribune applied for and received an injunction to prevent the session. Judge Avakain ruled that the civil service board could not hold a closed meeting for the purpose intended. He held that closed meetings must deal specifically with appointment, employment or dismissal, as specified by the Ralph M. Brown Act.

Map Question Clouds Water Annexation Try

Olema-Point Reyes Station residents used a map prepared for annexation to Marin Municipal Water District in applying for annexation to North Marin Water District, and it may not be applicable, directors of Marin Municipal district were told yesterday.

Gen. Mgr. William R. Seeger of MMWD told the board he has written to John F. Barrows, executive secretary of the Local Agency Formation Commission, raising a question about the map.

Directors approved his already-written letter.

The letter was written in answer to questions from Barrows prior to the LAFC's hearing on the North Marin annexation scheduled for Jan. 7.

Seeger said he recommended a specific improvement district area be established to finance the cost of a study of the water needs of the area, similar to that undertaken by MMWD for the Muir Beach Community Services District.

Seeger said he felt the boundaries in the annexation should not include facilities of Marin Municipal Water District or "any area within the reasonable service area of an existing service district."

The Olema-Point Reyes Station residents petitioned for North Marin annexation after long delays and frustration over annexation to the Marin Municipal district.

The Marin Municipal Water District also:

1. Agreed to sign a right-of-way and encroachment permit with Leo and Miriam Boian of Tiburon who have built a driveway over the district's pipeline.
2. Entered into the district's first 50-50 fireline extension agreement with the County of Marin for 770 feet of 6-inch pipe on Margarita Drive, Peacock Gap, for $7,793.
3. Learned that a request by Boy Scout Troop 33 of Mill Valley to put signs on Mount Tamalpais had been withdrawn by the troop.
4. Promoted Dietrich Stroeh to associate engineer.
5. Set the next meeting for Jan. 11 at 1:30 p.m.

Labor Council President Trades Posts

James Smith of the Butchers Union Local 115 and president of the Marin County Labor Council, was elected secretary-treasurer of the council last night to succeed Hugh Cassidy, who resigned after 10 years in the position.

Charles Weers was appointed president, to fill that post until annual election in February.

The council recommended two candidates to fill a vacancy on the Marin County Hospital Board: Nicholas Georgedes, business agent of the Bartenders and Culinary Workers Union, and Thomas McCarthy, business agent for the Building Service Employees Union.

Sewer Line Hard To Find

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — A sewer line was broken during construction work here but the broken line couldn't be located.

Finally, a foreman hauled out a divining rod and went to work. The rod began to dance around and workmen started digging where it pointed.

Twenty-two feet down they found a sewer pipe — but not the broken one.

Warm Fire And Then Trouble

Two men were booked at the county jail early today for being drunk and causing a disturbance, after San Rafael police found them sleeping next to a healthy blaze in the fireplace of an abandoned dwelling at 626 Fifth Avenue.

Booked were Harvey D. Crump, 52, and Millard A. Whitelock, 68. Neither gave an address to police, who were called by an unknown party to check a fire in the single story building.

Light Christmas Tree, But Don't Ignite It

Decorated Christmas trees, lighted candles, and crackling fireplaces are traditional holiday embellishments, but they are also ingredients for holiday grief.

Marin has already had tragic warnings this year. Homes have been destroyed by fire, one as a direct result of a Christmas tree placed so close to a fireplace that a spark ignited the tree.

Fire and health officials have warned that one of the most dangerous Christmas decoration is the tree itself. If the tree is a live one, keep water around the base at all times. And even then, frequent checks should be made of needles around the light bulbs to see that they are not scorched by the heat of the bulbs.

Trees should be placed well away from fireplaces and heater outlets.

Whenever the home is to be unoccupied, switch off the tree lights.

Be sure all toys and gifts for children are incapable of causing fire, explosion or electric shock.

And just in case, families should map out (with children as active participants) two separate escape routes from each room—a main route and an alternate. Main exits are usually doors and stairways, and alternates are windows.

Today's Health, the magazine of the American Medical Assn., points out that more than 2,000 children die each year in home fires. Yet, most of them could walk swiftly away from death if they were given the most elementary fire escape instructions.

The most important lifesaving command to impress upon children is: Escape immediately. Don't try to put out the fire or pause for possessions.

TB Is Far From Licked

Tuberculosis has increased 165 per cent in Marin since 1960, more than double the percentage of population increase.

Last spring nine youngsters were in the Ross TB sanatorium at one time, the largest number in many years. In the past three years, 14 Marin babies, children and teen-agers have contracted TB — among them four tots under 4 years of age.

Two of this year's TB victims are Marin women who worked with preschool youngsters.

The State Education Code calls for TB clearance of school personnel only every other year. In response to the Marin TB Association's recommendation, all but seven of Marin's public school districts now require annual clearance.

The biggest enemies of effective TB control are lack of concern and false security in considering the problem licked.

TB can be controlled, but only if unwitting carriers of the germ can be spotted in time.

Whom Did We Forget?

It happens every year about this time. We scratch our head and pick our alleged brains. Whom did we forget to buy a present for?

Unfortunately, we are not the methodical type who keep meticulous lists, headed "MUST GIVE." Not for us, this cool and sensible approach. We are impulse gift givers. We visit stores and windowshop until we imagine some spark of inspiration has hit us when we look at something and it seems to say, "Aunt Bertha" or "Uncle Dick" or "Bud." We like to live dangerously. We buy it.

But this has its disadvantages. If nothing says, "Cousin Wilber," we are likely to forget him. So we have to do a bit of head scratching.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

It's Time Legislature Take Study Of The Gambling Laws

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—With a proposal before the Assembly interim committee on governmental efficiency and economy for legalizing betting on jai alai, it may be time for the state Legislature to take a new look at all forms of gambling from which revenue for the state can be obtained.

This column over the past has not advocated extensions of legalized gambling, on the simple grounds that the sport, recreation, or whatever one wants to call it, perhaps the sucker game, produces nothing of intrinsic value, and therefore is merely an exchange of money with a large portion of the principal siphoned off to meet the expenses of government.

The subject of gambling, its definition, at what point it becomes a sin, and to what extent the people of the state should legalize the process, and in what forms, is a big subject, and the various facets can be argued far into the night without resolving the question.

But some simple facts remain, and one of them is that law or no law, people will continue gambling, whether the stakes be the planting of an agricultural crop, establishment of a business, a killing in the stock market, driving on a freeway, playing poker, bridge or black jack or shaking dice.

IN FACT, most of living is a gamble, so the question evolves into one of what gamble is moral and what is sinful.

In California, the realm of hypocrisy reigns supreme as far as gambling is concerned. Mere possession of a slot machine constitutes a felony. Play draw poker in a card room and it's legal. Play stud poker in the same room, and participants are subject to misdemeanor charges. Play the same stud poker in a private residence, and the participants aren't bothered in a friendly little game.

Bet on horse racing and it's entirely legal, with the state taking its cut for promotion of the agricultural arts. Bet on a cock fight, or even hold one, and the sheriff is liable to confiscate the stock, at the same time tossing someone in jail.

AT ONE TIME, California had legalized dog races, banned primarily because the "fix" was too easy. The same people who cracked down on the dog races could well do a little investigating concerning thoroughbred horse racing.

It's all right in places to roll dice in a bar for drinks, but the customers mustn't bet money between themselves at the same bar, or the alcoholic beverage control people are apt to crack down.

In sum and substance, the entire situation adds up to one of the most conflicting mazes of virtue versus alleged evil ever encountered in modern times.

CONCERNING the jai alai proposal, there would appear to be no more reason why the public should be barred from betting on this fast handball game than on a horse-race.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Dog Owners—Responsibility

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Being an avid reader of your paper I seem to come upon one item all the time which somehow I don't understand. Perhaps some of your readers can help me.

The subject is the role of the dog in the American Society. Having grown up in Europe myself we always had a dog in our home, or rather to watch it.

The dog was well fed, had a comfortable house and even though he had enough room when at home we took long walks with him

The other day in a letter to the editor people complained about their constitutional rights being abused, when the freedom of their dogs was curtailed. These same people would not in the least be concerned if a human being had hardships because of their dogs.

I am stating this from experience having lived across the street from a house where three poodles started in at daybreak and never stopped till night. Does the constitution mean freedom for people of all races or people with dogs.

Also in reference to the lady, Mrs. Rapp of Novato. Would she be as unhappy if e.g. a young mother had lost control of her car and her children been injured because of her dog.

Since I am at the subject I would like to ask about dogs in food stores. I have noticed a certain man holding his poodle over the meat compartment in a supermarket and bringing him also into a delicatessen store, even though both places have a clear sign at the door that the health department has an order against this. This embarrassed the clerks because they would like to have the man's business as far as dog food is concerned.

Who is responsible for cleaning up the dogs' messages left on downtown house fronts or the damage done to lawn by dogs?

I understand the companionship a dog gives, but doesn't this bring more obligation on the side of the owner not just to feed and provide a home but also to be responsible for the animal. It being not a human being and not being able to live as one.

Mud Flat Fence Now In Place

Editor, Independent-Journal:

After your articles about the dangerous mud flat appeared, we consulted with the Department of Public Works and through our engineer, Mr. Lygren, placed a fence around the property, as you probably know.

We wish to thank you for the compliment that appeared in your paper.

My associates and I in International Investment Co. are desirous of doing everything we can to improve the area and appreciate your cooperation.

Use Of Drugs By Teeners Soar

Editor, Independent-Journal:

After reading my I-J day after day and seeing the ease with which most judges dismiss charges of narcotics violations, and the punishment, if given, is so slight as to be almost non-existent, I was reminded of the pronouncements made by the Marin County Grand Jury last January when they recommended stiff penalties for narcotics violators.

I was about to write the Grand Jury and ask them what happened to these recommendations which were so well received, when, the very day that the "do-it-yourself baby-murdering" lessons were given front-page publicity in the I-J, the Grand Jury announced its recommendations for liberalization of the abortion laws.

It really seems as though someone is out to get our kids, one way or another. With all the panel discussions, hearings, etc., the number of narcotics and LSD users among teenagers is increasing every day. All those who were so shocked at the findings several months ago, would be shocked anew to find that the use of these drugs has doubled since they held their last "hearing".

Our kids are the primary targets for the pushers of marijuana and LSD and the adults in authority who are allowing this siutation to grow worse are now giving the "green light" to the wholesale murder of innocent babies.

Measles during pregnancy is one "reason" for abortion—Why not eliminate the measles? The vaccine is available to everyone.

Rape is another "reason" for abortion—Why not eliminate rape? Wherever rape is punishable by the death penalty, there is no rape.

Where do all the "civil rights" and "civil liberties" people stand on narcotics and abortions? Where are the rights of the unborn child who has never commited any crime? Does the convicted killer on death row have more rights?

If "population explosion" is a reason for abortion, as it is in Japan, how long will it be before someone decides that it is much more reasonable to murder grandmas and grandpas who have already lived a full life span and have "nothing more to contribute to society"?

As long as we continue to promote "freedom" for crime and "freedom" from punishment, all of us will suffer, especially the innocent.

What Will Happen Around Easter?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

What a stunning contrast of values we have in Marin County this year of 1966.

Supreme Court law is called forth to prevent a group of high school students from singing those "dangerous" traditional Christmas carols. These songs are about Christ — the historical man who cared not for material gain but who taught peace, love of neighbor and a very intelligent psychology—the man who gave much of the world a Faith.

I'd hate to see the economic result of doing away with the material department store activity surrounding the birth of this humble, brilliant man—production starts midyear.

A certain woman has been accorded legal clearance to teach do-it-yourself abortion to the young and inexperienced females this Christmastide. So we may have freedom of speech for her and no freedom of song for the carolers.

Peritonitis, maimed reproductive organs and latent psychological traumas are pretty sad risks to take the place of instruction in the responsibilities of maturity, family life and planned parenthood.

Now we may soon celebrate the Birth of Christ with a lovely plastic "Do-it-yourself abortion kit" in gorgeous colors to match the mini skirt wardrobe. What shall be done about Easter—that was another historical chapter.

BENNETT CERF

FRANK SINATRA is riding the crest these days, but still ruefully recalls the lean years before "From Here to Eternity" restored his popularity virtually overnight. "Those were the days," he says, "when my luck was so bad that when I invested in a pumpkin farm they abolished Hallowe'en, and the day I went to see the Grand Canyon, it was closed!"

OVERHEARD:

At the Union Club: "I found the going pretty tough for a while, I admit. But I just gritted my teeth, rolled up my shirt sleeves — and borrowed another ten thousand dollars from my father-in-law."

At the Algonquin Hotel: "Every few days, it seems, we see some man around here who's worked for the same boss for fifty years—celebrating THEIR wedding anniversary!"

NATO Getting Along Without France On Military Matters

WASHINGTON — Let's not accept the easy cliche that everything is falling apart in Western Europe — NATO, the Atlantic Alliance, good U.S.-German relations, and even West Berlin up for grabs.

It isn't true and the latest events show that it is less true than it appeared to be some months ago. Witness:

The Atlantic Alliance is beginning to function again both with France — and without her. France will sit with the 15-member NATO Council of Ministers when it deals with political and diplomatic matters. France will absent herself when the 14-member NATO Council deals with military matters. Thus NATO is not going to collapse, not just because the U.S. wanted to preserve it but because the other 13 NATO nations were determined to preserve it.

AFTER MANY months of debate and indecision the NATO Council has just created a nuclear planning group of four permanent members—the U.S., Britain, West Germany, and Italy, plus three rotating members. This gives West Germany full participation in NATO nuclear strategy without reducing the American veto over the use of nuclear weapons. By its own action, France remains outside.

The new coalition government in Bonn shows that Germany's democratic leaders are determined to counter the rise of extreme nationalism. Strong and stable government is one deterrent. At the same time Chancellor Kiesinger and Vice Chancellor Brandt are moving German foreign policy sufficiently out of the tight molds of the past to improve the prospects of widening East-West European trade and contact.

IN HIS FIRST address to the Bundestag in Bonn, Chancellor Kiesinger renewed Germany's wish to see no spread of nuclear weapons and gave new assurance that his government did not wish to produce, own, or take part in the decision to use nuclear weapons.

The coalition government's new Minister For All German Affairs Herbert Wehner, is proposing a new approach to East Germany. He wants to assure the Communist regime that West Germany does not seek to impose its political and economic system upon East Germany and suggests that, if the Communists will grant the East Germans free elections, a peaceful "togetherness" between the German peoples could be brought about.

ALL OF THESE are favorable developments — and welcome. But they do not make up for all General de Gaulle is trying to tear down, though they show that there are limits to his influence. At the moment de Gaulle is refusing even to make contingency agreements for reactivating U.S. bases in France in case of war. Paris says no on the ground that, even if America is involved in a NATO war, France might not join in.

This is French policy as long as de Gaulle says it is French policy, but I wonder if the French people really agree. They didn't agree in the prerunoff French election when de Gaulle got a minority of the vote. Furthermore, if the French are so worried about signs of resurgent German nationalism, they might like to bear in mind that NATO is a guaranteed defense against any German aggression as it is a guaranteed defense against Soviet aggression against any member.

PRESIDENT de Gaulle may think NATO can be safely dismantled on the premise there is no longer danger of war in Europe. That's like dismantling the fire department because there have been no fires for several years.

NATO Secretary General Manlio Brosio, who has served as Italian Ambassador in nearly every world capitol, points out that Moscow is openly seeking to break American ties with Europe. And in his recent visit to Paris Aleksei Kosygin sought assiduously to stir up Franco-German enmity.

Let us work for a real detente with the Soviets, but let us not lull ourselves to sleep by pretending it is yet anywhere near reality.

Nasser And Russia And Arms Buildup

By ROBERT S. ALLEN AND PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—U. S. Intelligence authorities are warning that President Nasser's New Year's Eve celebration plans will mark the opening of another stage in Russia's sinister arms buildup in the explosive Middle East.

The Egyptian dictator is set to announce that a Soviet ground-to-air missile system is being put into operation.

This is the third weapons system of this kind Russia has established outside of its own boundaries. The other two are in Cuba and North Vietnam.

THE EGYPTIAN missile network consists of more than 30 SAM bases. Its complex radar-controlled equipment and launchers will be operated by some 2,000 Egyptians and 500 Soviet technicians.

A study just completed by the Defense Intelligence Agency states this SAM system will be followed by shipments of new type Russian rockets, including intermediate range ballistic missiles.

The IRBMS, similar to those sent to Cuba in 1962, are now on the docks of two Soviet Black Sea ports for shipment to Egypt early next year. These missiles have ranges from 900 to 1,200 miles.

OTHER GROUND-to-ground missiles, which can be fired from mobile vehicles, are in nearby storage areas awaiting shipment. Their ranges are from 100 to 600 miles.

Intelligence officials are of the view that the Kremlin plans to use the Egyptian SAM "missile umbrella" as a deterrent to keep Israel or the U. S. from taking counter-measures during the ground-to-ground missile buildup.

In the past six years, Egypt has received more than $2.5 billion in Russian military hardware, ranging from submarines and destroyers to jet bombers and fighters, among them MIG 24s.

Until now, however, Moscow has refrained from introducing IRBMs into the Mediterranean area or any other region outside of Cuba.

INTELLIGENCE authorities consider the forthcoming IRBM shipments to Egypt as a major change in Soviet strategy in the Middle East comparable to the 1962 decision to send missiles to Cuba.

As these analysts see it, the principal objective of the missile buildup is to secure Egypt as an operational base:

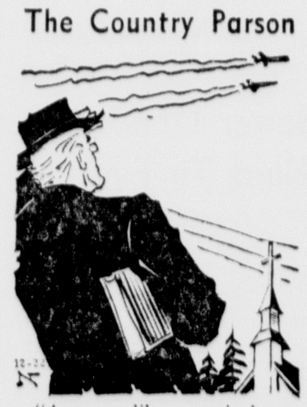

"To extend the Soviet area of domination southward to the Indian Ocean, gaining the warm weather ports Russia has coveted, along with control of a major source of the world's oil.

"TO NEUTRALIZE U. S. military force in the region. The growing concentration of Soviet submarines in the Mediterranean is considered by the Joint Chiefs of Staff to be an indication that Russia wants to be ready to challenge the (U. S.) Sixth Fleet."

In the opinion of the intelligence experts, Moscow also aims to expand its influence in Africa by the same methods being used in the Middle East.

This objective can be achieved more easily, they stress, if Russia has bases near the Mediterranean entrance to the Suez Canal and on the shores of the Indian Ocean.

Teachers Not Using Their Students For Evaluations

Those most capable of forming a valid opinion about a teacher's teaching ability are his students.

Yet only 10 to 20 per cent of the faculty at the College of Marin use an evaluation form on which students are asked to give, anonymously, ratings on their teacher and his class, for his personal use alone.

Student evaluation was the topic for a sparsely attended discussion by faculty and students last week at the College, at which little agreement was reached on the value, method or purpose of such evaluations.

One suspects that the teachers who use the present forms are those who least need them —the teachers who are genuinely interested in their subject and their students, and anxious to improve their teaching ability.

THE MOST frustrating classes I recall from my college years were taught by teachers who did not know their subject, or were convinced that their students could not or would not learn their subject.

There were also teachers who apparently thought their class was the only one you were taking, but it never seemed feasible to complain that a teacher taught too much.

An ignorant or indifferent teacher is not apt to choose to give his students a form asking for their evaluation of him, nor is he apt to respond to student criticism if it does reach him.

WHERE NO SET channel for evaluation exists, a student can appeal to the head of the teacher's department, but many of those students not warned in time by the student "grapevine" not to take the course, will either drop the class or write it off as a waste of time.

College of Marin acting President Irwin P. Diamond said that rarely have students complained to other faculty members or administrators about their teachers, except to appeal grades, but some students at last week's discussion voiced strong complaints about indifferent teachers now teaching at the College.

The most impractical student suggestion at the discussion was that evaluations be given all teachers and the results published for student consumption. This approach would probably draw more hostility than co-operation from the teachers.

THE MOST practical suggestion was that all teachers be required to give the evaluation forms to their students, and the results be made available, not to the teacher alone but to his department head and the college counseling staff.

If one or two students in a class of 30 complain that a teacher is indifferent or ignorant, a department head might assume correctly that the lack was in the students rather than the teachers. But if a charge of indifference is made by a larger proportion of the class, the department head is more likely to look into the charge than the teacher involved would be.

And the counselors, who have the job of listening to and coping with student problems, would be better able to judge where the student's problems lie.

DIAMOND suggested two reasons why this last suggestion would not work. One is that the faculty would probably be "violently opposed to it" as an infringement on their academic freedom.

The other is that, since the teachers who have been at the College three years or more already have tenure protecting their "academic freedom," little could be done about serious student complaints.

Who Cares If The New Left Makes Fun Of Yule Season?

THE STORES were all arrayed in their holiday finery and I was admiringly window-shopping when the sepulchral voice pronounced judgment. "Christmas," it said, "is groovy for kids, but after that it's plain corny."

My first impression, gained from a sidelong glance at the beard, was that it was the Ancient Mariner speaking, and I looked further to see if he was sporting an albatross around his neck. But then I noted that he wasn't so ancient and that his uniform — stretch pants, boots and the motorcycle sweater—suggested the land rather than the sea.

His companion, similarly attired, nodded. "Camp!" she said. (This is an all-inclusive word, apparently suitable for any occasion.) And they were off — to wherever it is the New Left goes.

MY GUESS IS THAT, by the time his long hair is as sparse as mine, they will reverse their verdict and realize Christmas offers something for older folks, too.

There is radiant joy, to be sure, in the delighted cries of a youngster over the toy Santa left him; but for ineffable bliss, you must watch the face of the parent or the grandparent who has so lovingly selected the gift and finds complete reward in the happiness it has brought.

And there are memories — which the young, who live only in the present, can not yet have. That is why oldsters rush so to open the holiday cards with the prayerful wishes of "Peace on earth, goodwill toward men," and the hope that the New Year will somehow usher in a golden era.

HAWK OR DOVE, that is what we all yearn for. But, alas, even if some blessed miracle should turn the present uneasy lull into a genuine peace, we know that mankind is not ready to lay down its arms and convert them into ploughshares.

Even now, that alleged parliament of man, the United Nations, which so bitterly opposes our presence in Vietnam, is involving us in sanctions that could conceivably lead into a shooting war against South Africa and Rhodesia.

But somehow the cards blot out the ugly realities and — corn or not—they are welcome indeed. And most welcome of all are those from the friends we haven't seen for ages. A little note in a familiar hand, and suddenly the years roll back as we recall gay and exciting times we shared when we were much younger and the world was our oyster.

THE CORN GETS as high an an elephant's eye as we remember — and there are tears as well as laughter. A note from Jim's wife conjures up remembrances of a vibrant spirit — and then we realize suddenly that Jim passed on five years ago. But, as long as his friends' hearts beat, the memory of Jim will not die.

The New Left may sneer at such sentiments as saccharine, but I suspect even some of them were moved when the immortal Walt Disney, who had brightened their childhood, went on to make animated cartoons for Valhalla. And they will mellow when they take their own kids to see "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs."

Maybe then they'll understand the special feeling of elation I got the other day when a minister — not of my own faith, but a good friend — who had moved from his local church some years ago dropped in for a surprise visit with his wife.

ALL THIS CORNY, I grant, but then so is Santa Claus. So is Dickens' Ebenezer Scrooge. So is Bing Crosby singing "White Christmas." So are Bob Hope and his valiant crew who give up their own holidays to bring some Yuletide cheer to the boys at the front. As Tiny Tim would say, "God bless them everyone."

So I shall, following my annual custom at this time of year, take two weeks off to wallow in treacle and corn with my family and friends before returning to the column wars.

And my heartfelt thanks to the many readers who took time out to include me in their season's greetings. May you all have the merriest of Chirstall have the merriest of Christ-New Years.

Private Nursing Rates To Jump $9 Per Day

Marin County Nurses Assn. reminded private nursing patients today that service fees will be raised to $37 for an eight-hour period, effective Jan. 1.

The current eight-hour rate is $28.

An association circular said the hike was approved by the California Nurses Assn. board this month. Rates last were raised in July, 1965.

"It (the hike) is consistent with the objectives of the nursing profession to foster high standards of nursing practice, promote the professional and educational advancement of nurses, and promote the welfare of nurses toward better nursing and patient care," the circular said.

Marinites Slower In Paying Taxes

Money is tight, taxes are up, and it appears that tax delinquencies are on the rise in Marin County.

County Treasurer-Tax Collector Stanley J. Fontez made the prediction today after looking at preliminary totals on collection for first installment taxes which were due Dec. 12.

There was $24,182,550.28 of the total $47,006,914.98 tax bill paid. This is 51.4 per cent payment for first installment.

Last year, 52.8 per cent was paid on the first deadline.

"It is certain the fewer are paying the total bill on the first deadline," Fontez said. "This is due to the tight money market."

Last year, the delinquency factor after the final, April 10 deadline was 5.65 per cent. Based on the totals so far this year, Fontez predicted higher delinquency but doubted it would go as high as 6 per cent.

He warned, however, that some small districts, including school districts, might be hard hit in areas of new construction where financing for developers has failed and left some developers little choice but delay in tax payments.

He said some of these trouble spots can be seen when apportionment of taxes is completed.

The total tax bill collected by the county covers property taxes for all governmental agencies, including cities, special districts and the county itself.

In Good Condition

Arthur E. (Dick) Lewis, an owner of Sausalito Yacht Harbor and large waterfront properties in Sausallito, was reported in good condition today at Springtown Manor Convalescent Home in Vallejo. Lewis, 79, of 25 Glen Court, Sausalito, has been in the home for about a month, but is expected to be released soon after the first of the year.

Audubon Canyon Ranch Honored For Its Design

Dr. Martin Griffin of Kentfield, chairman of the ranch's board of directors, said Governor Brown will present the award to a representative of the National Audubon Society Dec. 28 in Pasadena. The governor started the annual design award program this year.

Chairman of the jury which selected award winners was Nathaniel Owings, partner in the San Francisco architectural firm of Skidmore, Owings and Merrill.

Sponsored by the Marin and Golden Gate Audubon societies, tthe 567-acre ranch was founded in 1962 as a nature preserve.

A Far-Seeking Defense Can Punish The Declarer

Not every good bid produces a good result. If the opponents put up a brilliant defense and the cards are unfavorably located, your own brilliance may land you in the soup.

Our example of virtue unrewarded comes from the Team Selection Tournament held last month in Pittsburgh.

Four spades was a very shrewd sacrifice bid. West was surely going to make game in hearts for a score of 620, 650 or 680 points; and South hoped that the penalty would be smaller at four spades.

POINT SACRIFICE

If East held the ace of diamonds instead of the ace of hearts, South would lose only one heart, one diamond and two trumps.

The penalty would be only 200 points, so that South would save more than 400 points by sacrificing.

As the cards lay, South lost more than the value of the game. Sidney Lazard, New Orleans expert, overtook the king of hearts with his ace at the first trick and returned the 10 of clubs.

GETS RUFF

This defense eventually earned East a club ruff. South won the club return with the king and led a spade, losing dummy's king to the ace.

Back came another club, and South won and led another trump. All would work out well if the two missing trumps fell on the same trick.

NO SUCH LUCK

There was no such luck. East took the jack of spades and led a diamond.

Now West could take two diamonds and lead a club, giving East the ruff that he had cleverly set up.

SOME PROFIT

Virtue went unrewarded on this hand, but not for the entire 10 days of the tournament. Sammy Kehela and Eric Murray, Toronto experts who held the South and North hands shown today, profited enough from their other good bids to win a berth on the 1967 North American bridge team.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes. You hold:

♠ K 9 6
◆ 10 6 4 3
♣ Q 8 7 5

Answer: Pass.

Your five points are not enough for a response. If partner had opened with one of any other suit, you would be able to count the doubleton in hearts for one additional point, and your hand would then be worth a raise of partner's suit. When the doubleton is in partner's suit, it is a liability, not an asset.

ALMANAC

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase. The morning stars are Mars and Jupiter. The evening star is Saturn.

The founder of Georgia, James Ogelthorpe, was born on this day in 1696.

On this day in history:

In 1885, American composer Deems Taylor was born.

In 1894, Capt. Alfred Dreyfus, an officer of the French general staff, was found guilty of treason. He was vindicated and released in 1906.

In 1941, a message from Wake Island said the American stronghold in the Pacific had fallen to Japan.

In 1965, the U.S. and South Vietnamese government ordered a 30-hour truce on the Christmas holidays in the war with the Communists. The Viet Cong also declared a truce period.

Venus, Jupiter To Glitter In January Skies

By JAMES STOKLEY
Science Service

✲ ✲ ○ ● SYMBOLS FOR STARS IN ORDER OF BRIGHTNESS

The maps do not show Venus, which sets too early, but they do show a third planet. This is Saturn, which is seen in the southwest, in Aquarius, the water-carrier. Although much dimmer than Jupiter, Saturn is still as bright as a first magnitude star.

A few hours later than the time for the maps, Mars can be seen in the east in Virgo, the virgin. About one and a half times as bright as Saturn, its red color will make it easy to identify.

Higher and to the right shines the magnificent constellation of Orion, the warrior, with two bright stars. These are Betelgeuse, the upper, and Rigel. Between them are three fainter stars that mark the warrior's belt, according to the old legends of the stars.

To the west of this figure is Perseus, named for a hero in Greek mythology. It contains no first magnitude star, but is the location of Algol, the eclipsing binary star. This is a famous variable star, which, through a telescope, looks like one star but is actually two revolving stars. It dims every 68 hours and 40 minutes when the fainter of its stars moves in front of its brighter companion and partly hides it.

Two other first magnitude stars appear on the maps, but both are so low that atmospheric absorption dims them considerably. One is Deneb, in Cygnus, the swan, near the northwestern horizon. Regulus is the other, in Leo, the Lion, to the east.

In January we often look ahead to see what the year has in store, and we can do this for the skies. On evenings of spring and early summer Venus will shine brilliantly in the west, remaining visible for more than three hours after sunset in June. By the end of August it will pass between earth and sun. During autumn, Venus will be a brilliant morning star, in the east before sunrise.

The best chance to see Mercury in the evening will come about June 12, when it will be farthest east of the sun, thus remaining visible in the west for a while after sunset. It will also be in the evening sky, just after the sun sets, about Feb. 16 and Oct. 8.

Mars will continue to brighten until April, when it will be almost as bright as Sirius. Then it will be opposite the sun and visible all night, at a distance of as little as 55,850,000 miles on April 21. After that, it will gradually become fainter, but will remain visible in the evening sky for the rest of the year.

Jupiter will remain visible in the evening until July. In August it swings around behind the sun and will be out of sight, but by September it will join Venus as a morning star.

Saturn will remain an evening star until March when it goes behind the sun. In May it, too, will become a morning star. By August it will be visible in the evening.

The year will bring four eclipses, two of the sun and two of the moon. The first, a total lunar eclipse, will come on April 24, but only the beginning of the partial phase will be visible in North America.

During the night of Oct. 17 there will be another total eclipse of the moon, visible throughout North America. You will have to stay up late (or get up early) to see it. The total eclipse, when the moon is completely immersed in the earth's shadow, will occur from 4:45 a.m. to 5:46 a.m., EST.

The first solar eclipse, on May 9, is partial. It will be visible over most of Canada, the United States and Mexico. In Alaska, where the greatest eclipse will occur, nearly three-fourths of the solar diameter will be covered by the moon. The farther you are from that position, the less the sun will be eclipsed.

On Nov. 2 the second solar eclipse will occur. This will be total, but visible only along a short arc in the South Atlantic Ocean, southeast of Cape Horn. In Antarctica and South Africa there will be a partial eclipse.

The year may, as always, bring a bright comet, but none is scheduled for a return in 1967. A number of comets are expected, but all will be quite faint, observable only with good-sized telescopes.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Quarantine Measures Started With Old Italy's Seaports

VAN DELLEN

Quarantine comes from the Italian word quaranta, meaning 40. The procedure was brought into existence because of fear of pestilence. From 1377 to 1403 the chief commercial cities of the Mediterranean adopted and enforced a 40-day detention period forbidding ships from unloading when there was pestilence on board. There is considerable conjecture as to why this number of days was selected.

SOME SAY that the 40-day-period was derived from the biblical period of 40 days. Others, the 40 days of Lent, the custom of having a truce last for 40 days, or the legal period allowed a widow to dwell in her deceased husband's house. Hippocrates considered the 40th day of a disease as the most critical.

At any rate, the term applied mainly to maritime quarantine, and the procedure (except for the 40 days) still is followed at ports of entry. The vessels are inspected and certified as being free from communicable disease. During the examination they fly a yellow flag standing for the letter "Q" of the international code. These rules are essentially the same for planes flying from international airports.

THE TERM isolation is used interchangeably with quarantine, but there is a technical difference. The American Public Health Assn. defines isolation as the separation of persons suffering from infectious disease. In the past they were put in special rooms or in a communicable disease hospital often dubbed the pest house.

NOWADAYS the patients are isolated and the contacts are treated with preventive drugs. The old days of nailing a placard on the door as a sign of quarantine may bring memories to many, but we hope it is gone forever.

ANAL ITCHINESS

B. P. writes: What is pruritus ani? What are the symptoms, causes, and prognosis concerning this condition?

REPLY

Anal itching stems from infection, allergy to citrus fruits, nervousness, pinworms, and overindulgence in nuts, popcorn, condiments, and alcohol. The outcome is good if the cause can be detected and eliminated. Griseofulvin, an anti-fungal agent, is the latest remedy.

RENAL TUBERCULOSIS

N. J. I. writes: In tuberculosis of the kidney, is the infected organ removed?

REPLY

This was done before the advent of streptomycin, PAS, and the isoniazids. Today these drugs are used first, and if they are unsuccessful in controlling the infection, surgery may be needed.

ENLARGED ADENOIDS

K. J. F. writes: What are the symptoms of adenoid trouble?

REPLY

Enlarged adenoids may cause headache, nasal obstruction, and occasionally deafness. Children with enlarged adenoids usually are mouth breathers and some have facial distortions.

NO RELATIONSHIP

V. C. writes: Is it true that people with arthritis never develop cancer?

REPLY

No. This is another old wives' tale that is more farfetched than some of the others.

Many California Drivers Avoid Alcohol Tests, Take Suspensions

SACRAMENTO (AP) — More than 1,000 California drivers have given up their road privileges for six months rather than take newly required tests for drunkenness behind the wheel.

California's "implied consent" law went into effect two months ago, requiring suspected drunken drivers to submit to blood, breath or urine tests of alcohol content or else have their licenses suspended.

Most district attorneys in major California counties say it's too early to tell how well the law is aiding prosecution of suspected drunken drivers on busy highways, where 4,706 persons died in 1965.

"We're very pleased with the operation of the law," says Dist. Atty. Keith Sorenson of San Mateo County, where the U.S. 101 Freeway, nicknamed the "Bloody Bayshore," leads travelers to San Francisco.

"There have been substantial numbers refusing," says Oakland Assistant Dist. Atty. Albert Hederman of the tests.

Deputy Dist. Atty. J. Miller Leavy of Los Angeles emphasized that even if a driver refuses a chemical test, "we would go ahead and prosecute."

Sorenson explained that the new law "is providing for a greater number of chemical tests," helpful as evidence in trials. In San Mateo and some other counties, police gave chemical tests to suspected drunken drivers before the new law took effect. But the tests were voluntary.

The California Motor Vehicles Department reports refusals as of Dec. 1 numbered 1,235 — with about 200 drivers avoiding suspension of their licenses on legal technicalities.

"The figure of people going free will come down as officers become more familiar with the law," says Deputy Dist. Atty. Robert Puglia of Sacramento.

Another two or three months are needed before a sound evaluation can be made, says Commissioner Bradford Crittenden of the California Highway Patrol. But he added "the program seems to be moving smoothly."

Although enforcement officials say it's too early to judge the success of the law, some legislators already are calling for modification or repeal.

Opponents have argued the law was unconstitutional since drivers would, in effect, be required to give evidence against themselves.

Sorenson and other supporters of the bill said 18 other states have similar laws and none has been struck down in the courts.

Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown tried seven years to get the bill passed.

"I'm not a prohibitionist, but when people go to a cocktail party, they'll have to arrange for others who are not drinking to drive their cars," Brown said.

Candlelight Viet Vigil Set Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) —A "candlelight vigil" calling for a permanent cease-fire in Vietnam will be held in Union Square tonight.

The Northern California Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy plans a one-hour program at 6 p.m. of poetry reading, singing and a silent vigil accompanied by the lighting of candles.

Prince Philip Is Most Popular

LONDON (AP)—Prince Philip has emerged the 2-1 favorite in a six-celebrity Christmas dinner stakes poll.

Mass Observation, Ltd., made public yesterday in London its sampling of 2,000 persons.

Interviewers asked with which of the celebrities—including James Bond and actress Elizabeth Taylor—a person would most like to have Christmas dinner.

Reasoned one participant who preferred Philip, husband of Queen Elizabeth II: "There should be some good grub and I could have a look around the palace."

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Cathy Seeney was 12 years old on the 12th day of the 12th month, December. She was born on the 12th anniversary of her parents —Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Sweeney

LBJ Wants Streamlining Of Aging U.S. Patent Law

WASHINGTON (SS) — President Lyndon B. Johnson has released a report urging sweeping changes in the procedures of the Patent Office.

These include: When conflict arises between two inventors of the same device, the first to file with the office would receive the patent. This would eliminate consideration of the dates of "conception," and "reduction to practice," currently important in contested patents, and eliminate some legal proceedings.

Inventors could fill preliminary applications, documents with "minimal requirements" that could be drawn up by a person with little knowledge of patent law and procedure.

Within a year, he could file a complete application. Patents now take three to five years to process.

A patent would expire 20 years after its filing date, instead of 17 years after the granting date, as at present.

Southerners Eye Own Candidates

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some Southern Republicans are mentioning Sens. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina and John G. Twer of Texas as possible favorite-son candidates for the 1968 GOP presidential nomination.

Rep. Albert W. Watson, R-S.C., said yesterday the Thurmond candidacy "is in the talking stage," but that no organized drive was under way.

This Woman Really Loved Her Home

BRUTON, England (UPI)—Mrs. Elizabeth Knolleys loved her home so much she couldn't bear the thought it might be torn down when she died.

When her will was read it was learned she had left 1,000 pounds ($2,800) to any purchaser of the home who lived in it for at least 10 years.

Jockeying Starts For Demo Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield has laid down rules for election of the Senate majority leadership at the Senate Democratic Conference just before the 90th Congress convenes Jan. 10.

Three senators already have announced for the only expected vacant post — secretary to the Democratic conference. Sen. George A. Smathers of Florida, who now holds the job, is retiring.

Those who have telegraphed or contacted their 61 Democratic colleagues asking their support for the post are Sens. Joseph S. Clark of Pennsylvania, Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia and Fred R. Harris of Oklahoma.

Mansfield and Sen. Russell B. Long of Louisiana, the assistant leader, are expected to be re-elected the other two leadership posts without opposition or formal voting.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Christmas Story To Long Cherish

BY RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Truman Capote, the host with the most, is good company, no doubt about it. Aside from his recently-acquired fame as a nonpareil party-giver, his literary works have an enviable directness that is almost irresistible. One such sample was offered on "ABC Stage 67" Wednesday night, and it was a television Christmas program to cherish.

PURE BEAUTY

The hour, "A Christmas Memory," a dramatization by the author of a story commissioned by Mademoiselle Magazine in 1956, was a poetically haunting childhood reminiscence of the friendship, in an Alabama town, of a little boy (the young Capote) and his eccentric, sixtyish spinster cousin. Capote himself did the narration, and what a pleasure it was to hear a real, unadorned human voice in this capacity rather than one of those bland, professional script-readers.

For this dramatization, which celebrated the loveliness of the pure soul, and the small joys and beauties of life—and thus indirectly commented on the real meaning of this Christmas season—the author had an ideal supporting troupe. As the spinster, Geraldine Page was memorable in every way in what seems certain to be an award-winning performance. As the boy, Donnie Melvin displayed a rare combination of shining forthrightness and an unusually mature depth of understanding.

FLAWLESS SHOW

As the producer and director, Frank Perry, of "David and Lisa" fame, functioned flawlessly in adhering to the gentleness, the natural humor, the overall innocence of the story, and particularly in capturing the unique bittersweet quality that marks Capote's best works. Conrad Hall's photography was a visual complement to the poetic tone, as was Meyer Kupferman's music.

One of the functions of the dramatist, although it is too often forgotten today, is to lift the soul and spirit of the audience. "A Christmas memory" did that, and more. Its glow was very special.

Two Marin Yuletide Performances On TV

There will be a re-showing tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. on television station KQED (Channel 9) of a performance of Menotti's "Death of The Bishop of Brindisi" by the Winifred Baker Chorale and children's chorus.

On Saturday there will be a re-showing of a performance of Britten's "Ceremony of Carols" by Dominican College's singing groups led by Winifred Baker. This will be seen on station KPIX (Channel 5), at 2:15 p.m.

Floats Proposed In Tomales Bay

A Balboa man has asked the Army Corps of Engineers for permission to anchor floats for shellfish cultivation on the western shore of Tomales Bay, one mile north of Tomales State Park.

Leland D. Christensen said several floats, each 10 by 18 feet, would be placed in Sacramento Landing and Duck Cove. He said they would be spaced about 50 to 100 feet apart to permit passage of small craft.

Objections must be made by Jan. 19 to the Corps of Engineers, 100 McAllister Street, San Francisco 94102. Three copies of a complaint should be enclosed.

Women Marines Go To Overseas Duties

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Almost 100 more women Marines will be sent to Japan and Okinawa next year to supplement the 13 who are already in those areas.

Lt. Gen. Leonard F. Chapman Jr., chief of staff of Marine headquarters, told a Pentagon news conference yesterday the number of lady Marines in Japan would be increased by a dozen and 82 more would be given assignments, mainly for clerical work on Okinawa. There are no present plans to send them to Vietnam, he said.

Judge Drops Four Counts Of Burglary

Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. of Marin Municipal Court yesterday dismissed a four-count burglary complaint against Raymond Joseph Penoli Jr., 27, for insufficient evidence and unavailability of prosecution witnesses.

Penoli still faces four other counts of burglary in Sonoma Municipal Court. He is free on $5,500 bail pending arraignment there next Thursday.

He and a 20-year-old blonde companion, Eileen Marie Thompson, were arrested by San Rafael police Dec. 8 at Penoli's apartment at 565 Canal Street. Officers said they found about $4,000 in clothing stolen from cars of shoppers in San Rafael and Sonoma County late last month and this month.

Penoli was charged in Marin Municipal Court with entering the locked cars of Ruth A. Hirsch and Nancy Lee Gori on Nov. 22, the locked car of Herbert Belven on Nov. 25, and the locked car of Dorothy Paganini on Dec. 6, all in San Rafael.

No complaint was filed against Miss Thompson and she was released Dec. 9.

Youth's Manuscript Is Still Missing

The publishers will have to wait, because 18-year-old Charles S. Upton of San Rafael has not yet recovered his first-novel manuscript.

San Rafael, Marin Catholic Cage Teams Lose Again

The fast starters in the Marin County Athletic League are not thoroughbreds after all. At least not yet.

San Rafael and Marin Catholic, the two basketball teams that got out of the starting gate the quickest, continued to stumble relentlessly toward the back of the pack yesterday as they entertained and lost to out of town foes.

San Rafael, once the proud owner of a 5-1 record, got chopped down for the third straight time, this time by Montgomery of Santa Rosa, 45-61.

The Wildcats, now 4-3, stayed close to Poly, winner of the San Francisco Riordan tournament, for a half when they trailed by only 30-34. But a third quarter that saw Poly take a 51-40 lead sealed the Wildcats' fate in a game that started bright and early at 10 a.m. instead of the originally scheduled 1 p.m.

Harry Matsinger led the youthful Cats with 19 points followed by Ches Bornia with 14 and Paul Ingrassia with 12 points.

The easy win by Montgomery was particularly foreboding since the Vikings have been beaten by Drake and Redwood and have a 56-50 victory over Terra Linda.

The Vikers made do with very little. With no spectacular shooters, less spectacular height, they nevertheless ran the stumbling Bulldogs dizzy.

Tom Fitchie, a 5-11, semi-crew cut little guard who looked as if he was running for his life most of the afternoon, weaseled and drove his way to 25 points and personally wrecked the Bulldogs in the second half with deft passing and his scoring. He scored 13 points in the second half, 10 coming in the final quarter and effectively shutting the door on the scrambling Bulldogs.

The Bulldogs' most consistant problems were cold shooting arms, untimely errors plus the inability to stop the Vikes on their well-executed plays.

Montgomery missed a good deal of its outside shots but chopped the Bulldog defenses apart, whether it was man to man or zone.

For quite a while in the second half it was strictly "have basketball, will travel" as both teams repeatedly were whistled down for traveling violations.

The Bulldogs fell behind early, trailing 10-17 midway in the second quarter. They fought back to 20-23 and trailed by 28-34 at the half as both teams closed out the half on a flurry of scoring after a slow start.

John Farrar cut it to 30-34 on a drive off the second half tip-off and that was the last time the Bulldogs got close.

With San Rafael trailing, 33-41, the Vikes reeled off six straight points as Fitchie scored on a hesitation drive and Rich Rollin followed with a fast break bucket and a jumper to make it 47-33 and that was it for the Bulldogs.

They got as close as 41-51 early in the final period but four straight points by Fitchie ended that threat.

Red-headed, hard-working Skip Tyson was the only Bulldog in double figures as he dumped in 13 points on three fielders and six free throws.

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

Men's Health Club Is Planned In San Rafael, Fatties Welcome

SUET SHOP—Feeling pretty dumpy these days? Do you tell friends that bulge around the midsection is your money belt when really it's a funny belt that quivers when you laugh? Do you have the most superior posterior on your block?

Do you puff and wheeze when you climb a few stairs or mount a bar stool?

Well, Bunkie, you are out of condition and I know a young man who is dying to help us physical wrecks.

He wants to help us shed the excess baggage, to improve our circulation, relax our tensions of business, remove lactic acids from our persons, slow down our deteriorations of age, improve our metabolism, to enjoy life in the full.

THE YOUNG man so deeply concerned about our health is Allan B. Murray, a 33-year-old insurance executive and former baseball and basketball star at Tamalpais High School and University of Oregon.

No, Al hasn't discovered the Fountain of Youth, but he is planning what he considers the next best thing—a health club in San Rafael.

"THIS," SAID Murray, "is something San Rafael has needed for some time, a place where businessmen can go at lunchtime or after work for complete relaxation. We plan to pattern our men's club after the Embassy Health Club in San Francisco, with such features as a hot whirlpool spa, a conditioning room, sauna mineral rock bath, sun-lamp room, paddle ball courts, barber shop, steam room, shaving bar, lounge, restaurant and game room."

HE CONTINUED, eyeing my girth, "I've been working on this idea for two years, and we're still a year away from construction. We have $100,000 in escrow and will have to match that figure before we start. We need 500 members at $200 per year to reach our goal, but I anticipate no trouble. Heck, in the past two years I've talked to about 700 men and not one of them said 'no' to my idea. Now I'm ready to start enlisting members."

MURRAY ALREADY has enlisted actor Jim "Mr. Magoo" Backus and 49er grid star Matt Hazeltine to serve on his board of directors. Attorney Jack Blaine is handling the legal details.

"We're still looking for a site," Murray explained. "It will either be in Northgate or downtown San Rafael. Our building will be 15,000 square feet and we're going first class all the way. Our paddle or handball courts, for instance, will cost $11,000 apiece. We want to provide our members with the best of everything in health spa equipment.

"WE HAVEN'T decided on a name yet. We were thinking of Marin Athletic Club but I understand an organization already has that name. We'll come up with something in due time."

I'd like to recommend the "A. A. of Marin" as a name. That means Arivederci Avoirdupois.

Hamilton AFB Hoopsters Capture Own Tournament

The Air Force cagers won their own tournament last night, after three days of competition with Northern California college freshmen teams.

Hamilton defeated Fresno State's frosh 86-83 in the finals of the tournament held in the North Recreation Hall of the air base. The three tournament wins increased Hamilton's basketball record to 16 wins and only one loss.

Fresno State rallied to within two points with less than one minute left, but Dan Woods put the game away fror HAFB when he made a free throw with only three seconds remaining on the clock.

Lucius Davis of Fresno State was the game's high scorer with 28 points, and Bob Yates was tops for Hamilton with 21 points.

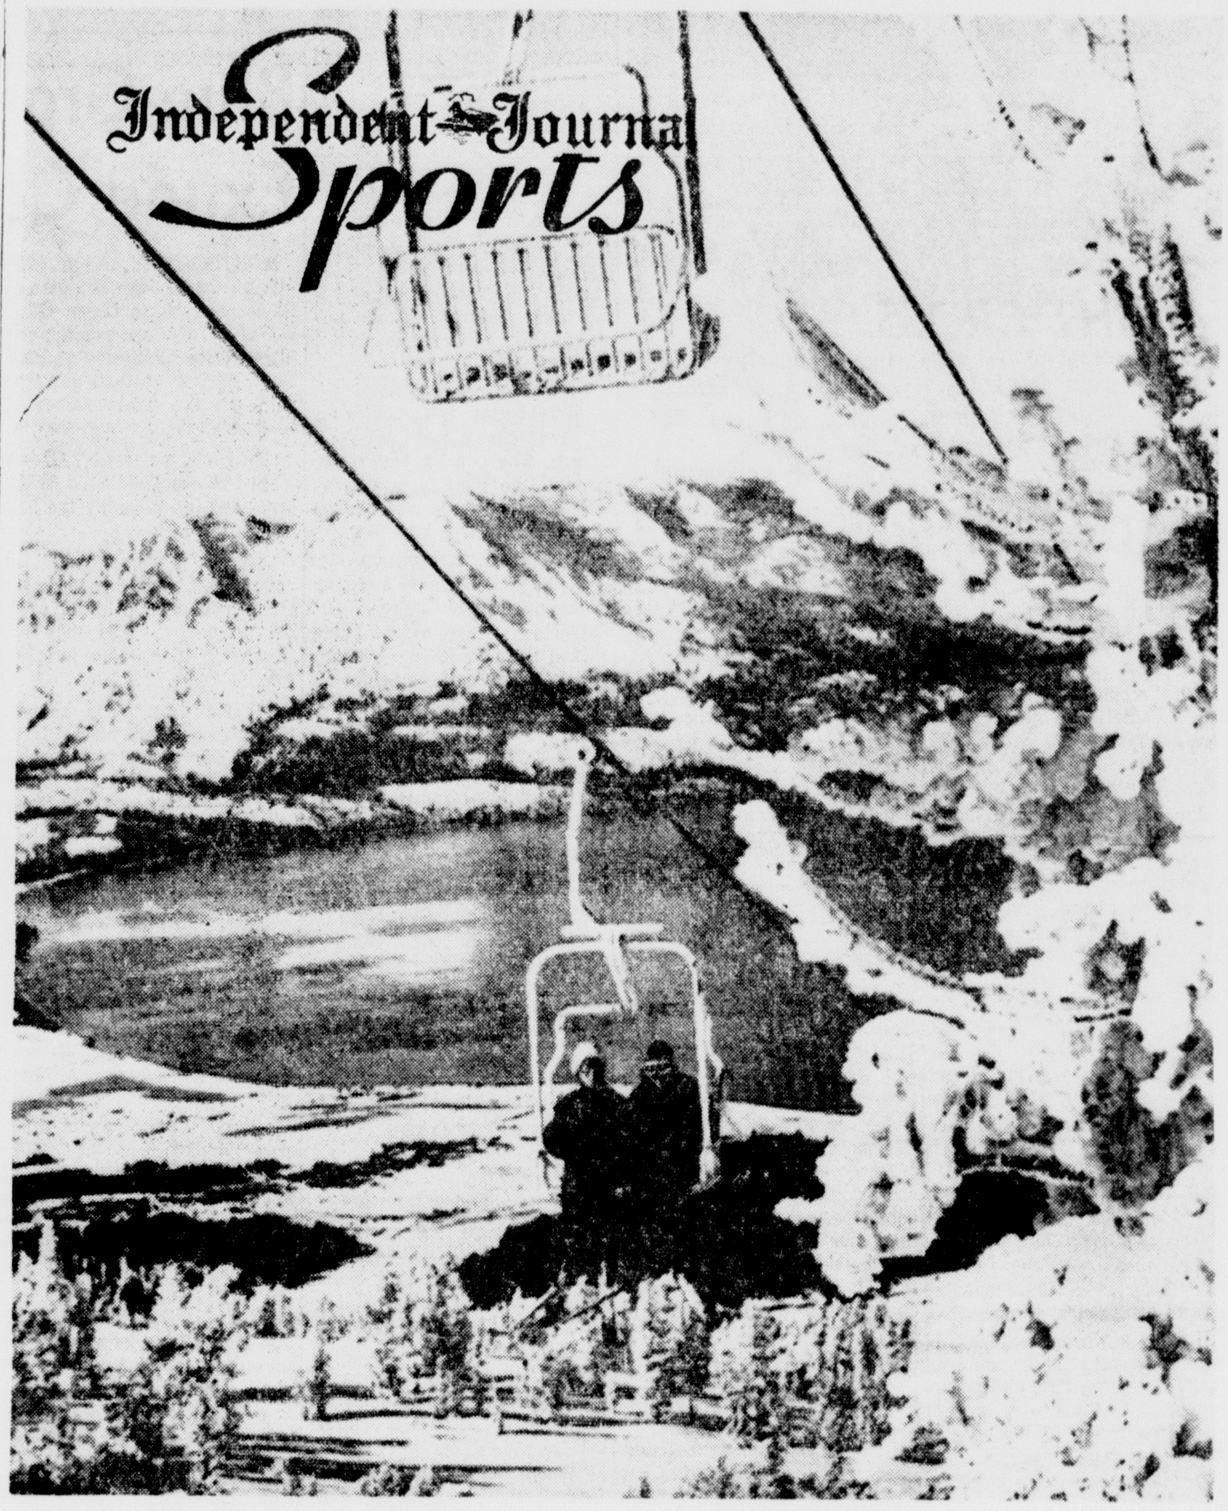

In consolation fresh man games, Cal at Davis won third place by edging Chico State, 68-65; University of Nevada downed San Francisco State 68-62 for fifth place, and Sacramento State dumped Humboldt State, 92-65, for seventh.

Chrisiansen In Hall Of Fame

DENVER (UPI) —San Francisco 49er Coach Jack Christiansen will be admitted into the Colorado Sports Hall of Fame.

It was announced that he and the late skiing great Buddy Werner will be inducted Feb. 2.

Christiansen was a high school grid star in Colorado and also performed brilliantly at Colorado State University. He was a defensive back for eight years with Detroit and was an all-league choice five times.

PRO LEAGUES' MERGER

Gridders Short-Changed

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Players arriving for the 42nd annual East-West Shrine game, are wondering about pro football salaries.

In question is the merger of the National Ftball League and the American Football League.

"The lack of bidding is sure to hurt us," UCLA All America halfback Mel Farr said yesterday. "But I don't think they can drop the salaries too far the first year."

"The pros have to consider how it would look," continued Farr. "You know, the anti-trust laws and so forth."

Clint Jones of Michigan State, another All America halfback, said he would not follow other players and hire a negotiator or a lawyer.

"What's the use?" Jones said. "There's only one club making the offer. Sure the merger will cause them to try to sign us cheap. I don't have to play football if the bids are too low."

Jones said he would go into the funeral business with his uncle if the pros don't meet his price.

An exception to the new rule was Michigan end Jack Clancy, pursued by two pro teams.

Clancy, redshirted after his freshman season and eligible for last year's draft, was selected by both Miami of the American Football League and St. Louis of the National Football League. The bidding between the two clubs is driving his asking price into the $200,000-$300,000 range, Clancy said.

"My lawyer is negotiating with both teams and I expect to sign with one of them next week," Clancy added.

Race Track Openers Postponed

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An official at Santa Anita race track says: "I doubt if we'll be racing this season."

And no negotiations between management and the Building Service Employees union are scheduled today in the contract dispute.

In any case, a Santa Anita spokesman said, the scheduled Dec. 26 opening of the Arcadia track and Bay Meadows in San Mateo will be delayed. "It's impossible to open Monday," he said.

The game was tied at 79-79 at end of regulation time and 85-all at the end of the first overtime period. Leading the scoring for Celoni's was Bill Monti, San Rafael High School teacher, with 31 points. Other double figure shooters for Celoni's were Joe Wardell, 22; Jesse Munyon, 15, and Milt Hain, 13.

Seals Vs. Gulls In San Diego Tonight

SAN DIEGO (AP)—The California Seals, tied for fourth place in the Western Hockey League, play the last-place Gulls tonight in San Diego.

The Seals, tied with Seattle, are 10-11-6 for 26 points. San Diego is 9-17-1 for 19 points.

Warriors To Host Hot Philadelphia

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The National Basketball Assn.'s Eastern and Western divisions clash here tonight as the Philadelphia 76ers meet the San Francisco Warriors at Civic Auditorium, 8:30.

The Warriors still will be playing without their injured star, Rick Barry, although the 38.7-points-a-game shooter is making a faster recovery than expected.

Dr. James Raggio, the team physician, said yesterday that Barry, who strained an ankle ligament in practice Monday, may see limited action Sunday at Cincinnati. It was thought at first he might be out as long as 10 days.

The 76ers, who whipped Los Angeles, 129-123, Monday night while San Francisco was idle, have a 30-3 record and three scorers in the top 10 — Wilt Chamberlain, Hal Greer and Chet Walker.

Bears, Stanford Stopped; Dons, Santa Clara Win

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Iowa has pinned the California Bears' basketball team with its first defeat in five games.

The key to the Hawkeyes' 72-62 victory at Iowa City last night was balanced scoring. All five starters shot in double figures.

In other games involving major West Coast teams:

Bill Hewitt scored 28 points and grabbed 27 rebounds in leading Southern California to a 92-60 victory over Arizona State that won third place in the Sun Devil Basketball Classic in Phoenix.

Stanford lost to Illinois, 81-67, at Champaign in a game decided on free throws. Referees awarding 28 to Illinois and 11 to Stanford.

San Jose State put on a successful stall to eke out a 60-57 triumph over Nevada at Reno. Steve Schlink gave San Jose State the lead with a three-point play with eight seconds remaining.

University of Pacific, receiving 19-point efforts from Dave Fox and Bob Krulish, racked up an 82-72 victory over the University of Portland.

In the nightcap, University of San Francisco beat Providence, 84-70, despite 43 points by Jimmy Walker for the losers.

Boston's Jim Nance Named Most Valuable AFL Player

By MIKE RATHET

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Nance, the bruising Boston fullback who stopped looking in the mirror for Jim Brown and started shedding weight for Mike Holovak, was named today the Most Valuable Player in the American Football League by the Associated Press.

Nance romped off with the honor just as he did with the AFL's rushing record, polling 20 of the 27 votes cast in The AP poll by three-man committees of sport writers and sportcasters in each of the nine league cities.

His only competition came from Kansas City quarterback Len Dawson, who guided the Chiefs to the Western Division crown, and his own teammate, linebacker Nick Buoniconti. Dawson received six votes and Buoniconti one.

But Nance completely outdistanced the field by easily breaking the league rushing record and finishing with a total of 1,458 yards gained on the ground —a record unmatched by any sophomore pro with the exception of Brown, who gained 1,527 yards for Cleveland of the National League.

Before Nance could do that, however, he had to start thinking about the weight he was carrying around—both physically and mentally. The mental aspect came from the comparisons made between Brown and Nance, who followed in his footsteps at Syracuse University.

And so Nance went virtually nowhere on the ground in his rookie year last season while his weight went virtually everywhere on his body — and before he knew it he was up around 245 pounds and benched by Coach Holovak. But he did begin to make the transformation in the final four games.

"I forgot Jimmy Brown and the comparisons and for the first time in months I wanted to play football," Nance says honestly. "As for the weight I wasn't playing much — not concentrating on what I was doing — and the weight kept going up while I didn't even notice it."

Then there was the experience factor, and Nance admits he was confused.

"It was a whole new system and I was confused," he said. "I wasn't doing anything naturally. I stopped to think over every move I made and by the time I came around to making it, the hole was gone — it was too late."

So Nance made another decision when he came to camp this year.

"I just told myself," he said, "that when I saw the hole I was going to get through it first and try to make some yardage."

And, maybe, at a not-so-svelte but oh-so-effective 235 pounds, Nance was able to slip through quicker. At any rate he gained 100 yards or more in eight games and bettered the 200-yard mark on two occasions while bettering the league rushing record of 1,121 yards set by Paul Lowe.

The turnabout has been so complete for Nance that when you ask Holovak how good Nance is now, he thinks for a minute before answering.

"How good is he?" Holovak will ask rhetorically. "What can I say that I haven't already said. You can say whatever you want — and I'll sign my name to it."

NCAA CAGE STATISTICS

Lew-Lew Alcindor Has Whopping Lead

NEW YORK (AP)—Sophomore sensation Lew Alcindor of UCLA boasts the biggest scoring lead any major college basketball player has amassed in five seasons.

The 7-foot-1 transplanted New Yorker enjoys a whopping 7.8 points per game margin over runner-up Bob Lloyd of Rutgers, according to figures released by the NCAA Service Bureau today. Records include games through Sat. Dec. 17.

Alcindor, who ends an 11-day vacation tonight when he plays at home against Colorado State U., is averaging 37.7 as compared to 29.9 for Lloyd, a 6-foot-1 senior.

The Rutgers' backcourt sharp-shooter jumped up two notches from fourth a week ago in the season-opening listings. Harry Hollines, a junior from Denver, ranks third with 29.2 after advancing from sixth.

Alcindor's imposing scoring output in three games and the idleness of the top-ranked Bruins also have bolstered his lead in both point-production and field goal percentage. Lanky Lew's floor accuracy is .758 while second-place Joe Allen of Bradley is a distant second at .702.

THIRD REBOUNDER

In rebounds, Alcindor is third with 19.7 retrieves per game as compared to 20.0 by runner-up Pete O'Dea of St. Peter's, N.J., and 23.3 by pace-setting Westley Unseld of Louisville. The 6-foot-8 Unseld has collected 140 rebounds in second-ranked Louisville's six straight victories.

Lloyd climbed from third to first in free throw accuracy, having missed only two foul shots in 71 conversion attempts for a .972 mark. Vince Fritz of Oregon State and Terry Gamber of Northwestern share second place with .952.

Northwestern shows the way in team offense, scoring at a 112.5 points-per-game clip. Tennessee is tops defensively, having yielded an average of 49.8 points a game.

The scoring leaders:

Bad News For Elorde And Torres

NEW YORK (AP) — Jose Torres and Flash Elorde both got bad news from the New York State Athletic commission, but it's a good bet Torres will fight again in New York. Elorde, however, may be through.

The commission decided yesterday to retire Elorde, the Filipino junior lightweight champion who was badly beaten by lightweight champion Carlos Ortiz in Madison Square Garden Nov. 28.

At the same time the commission placed Torres, who lost his light heavyweight title to Dick Tiger last Friday night, on the "ill and unavailable" list.

Elorde said he was considering retiring after the Ortiz bout. The commission's decision may spur his decision, since he now cannot fight in New York. It will be up to the Filippino Commission — and Elorde — to decide if he will continue to fight elsewhere.

Torres was upset at the commission's decision, saying "I don't see why they have to be in such a hurry."

Torres lost a 15-round decision to Tiger and the commission placed him on the list because of his poor performance and "his recent history of relapsing pancreatitis."

The commission said that "repeated recheck, clinical examination, laboratory tests by his personal physicians and a re-evaluation by the Medical Advisory Board are necessary before he can be reinstated."

Blue-Gray, North-South, Sun Bowl Games On Tap

Wyoming's Whacker In Sun Light

Whacker Jerry DePoyster is the Wyoming kicking specialist who might play a key role in Saturday's Sun Bowl football game against Florida State.

DePoyster split the uprights with 13 field goals and 32 extra points for 71 points this season, the high on Wyoming's 9-1 Western Athletic Conference champion team.

"If we're not eating up the yardage around their 40," said Eaton, "we might as well give it a whack. DePoyster is the farthest kicker I've ever coached." coached."

DePoyster kicked three 54-yard field goals and another for 52 yards during the Cowpokes' season. The 6-foot-2 junior also handles the punting, averaging 40 yards per kick. His longest punt was 77 yards last year.

Florida State's workout picked up agressiveness. Coach Bill Peterson said the Seminoles had been listless earlier this week.

Eaton said Florida State's quarterback Gary Pajcic probably would throw 50 passes Saturday but Eaton also was cautious about the Florida State running game. Fullback Jim Mankins gained 468 yards rushing and led the Seminoles in scoring with 60 points. Running back Bill Moreman gained 493 yards.

Peterson says that whether he runs or throws it will be hard to pick up yardage on Wyoming — which allowed a total of 385 yards rushing in 10 games and gave up only 69 points.

The Wyoming offense — besides the Whacker — also has a kiicker in halfback Jim Kiick.

The 211-pound Kiick picked up 597 yards rushing and scored 30 points. Quarterback Rick Egloff added 249 yards rushing and 1,191 passing, including 13 touchdown strikes.

"When you go 9-1 in modern football, that's something," said Red Grange, former Illinois and Chicago Bear star. "And allowing just 385 yards in a season must be some kind of record," said Grange, who lives in Florida and saw three Seminole games this year.

"Both teams have played tough schedules," said Philadelphia Eagle line coach Dick Allen, who came to sign Wyoming middle guard Jerry Durling to a National Football League contract.

Blue-Gray Teams Exude Confidence

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) —South Coach John Bridgers of Baylor and North Coach Glenn Dobbs of Tulsa are exuding confidence for Saturday's Blue-Gray All-Star football game as both put the final touches on their strategy.

"This is the sixth All-Star team I've coached," said Bridgers, "and it's probably the best one."

"I think this is a sounder team than last year's South squad. Our secondary is better for one thing.

"I think my boy Terry Southall (Baylor) is a more accurate passer than Randy Johnson (last year's Gray quarterback) was. With the possible exception of our running game, this is a better team in every department."

STRONG WORDS

"He has grasped things more quickly and improved more than anyone on the team," said the Baylor coach.

"Not only is he a fine runner and blocker, but he is a heck of a quarterback. He runs the team well and his play selection is excellent."

Trainer Dutch Luchsinger said Bryan has recovered from a pulled groin muscle suffered Saturday and he practiced yesterday without the heavy bandages that have been protecting his right leg.

Dobbs has had fewer injury problems than Bridgers, but he's taking no chances with those he's had.

He said his big running backs, Jim Dewiler of Michigan and Bob McElvey of Northwestern, have slight knee ailments, but both are expected to be in fine shape for the nationally televised Christmas Eve encounter.

JUST IN CASE

"Just in case something happens in the game, though we are working with Rick Sygar (Michigan), Mike Weger (Bowling Green) and Jim Whitaker (Missouri) at fullback and tailback," he said, "so they can move to offense if needed."

Dobbs grumbled slightly about the showing of his offense in earlier practices but he was pleased yesterday.

"We were smoother," he said. "I expected us to get smoother and we were. We were sore Tuesday, but we are set now.

"It usually takes a day or so for those muscles to start hurting, but those boys are in good shape now.

"I am impressed and pleased with the attitude and play of our linemen. They really work out there. You know, it's easy for big linemen to sit around and take it easy in this kind of workout, but our fellows are really working."

Both coaches plan only light workouts for their charges Friday.

Negro To Direct The South

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A Negro quarterback will direct the South attack for the first time Monday when college all-star teams tangle in the Orange Bowl in the 19th annual North-South football game.

This will be Hank Washington, 6-foot-3, 205-pound West Texas State rifleman who was fifth in the nation during the past season with a completion average of 58 per cent and thinks he may become the first pro quarterback of his race.

Washington led the country in total offense until hurting his arm late in the year and said he hadn't thrown a pass in almost a month when he appeared here for the all-star game.

South Coach Darrell Royal of Texas said he would open at quarterback with Bo Burris of Houston but Washington will see half the action.

Royal's other offensive backfield starters will be running back Tommy Francisco of VPI,

Barry Sides of Houston and Donnie Bruce of VPI will be at the guards; Gene Bledsoe of Texas and Mike Haggerty of Miami at the tackles; Dave Dunaway of Duke the split end, and Tom Beer of Houston the right end.

Royal said he would use Tom Beier, Miami's All-America defensive back, as a roving monster man on defense and to back up Moody at fullback on offense.

Another Operation On Namath's Knee

NEW YORK (AP)—"I want to have it done," Joe Namath said.

Next week, the New York Jets' $400,000 quarterback will get his wish — his right knee will be operated on for the second time and Namath will lose a lateral cartilage that was torn in August during an exhibition game.

"I don't have any doubts the operation will be a success," Namath said from his mother's home in Beaver Falls, Pa., where he is spending the holidays. "It couldn't come out any worse and we're hoping the operation will make it better."

Namath's first operation was in January, 1965, for the removal of cartilage on the inside of the knee. The forthcoming operation is for outside cartilage.

Actually, the operation could be even more extensive. A team of three doctors will decide when Namath enters Lenox Hill Hospital whether to attempt more serious ligament surgery to give the knee more stability.

Assisting Jets' team physician Dr. James Nicholas in the final decision will be Dr. Philip D. Wilson Jr. of the Hospital for Special Surgery and Dr. Frank E. Stenchfield, director of orthopedic surgery for the College of Physicians and Surgeons at Columbia University.

Originally, Jets' owner Sonny Werblin and Coach Weeb Ewbank were against the operation, though it was obvious Namath was not in top shape. But, on Monday, a routine examination of Namath's knee revealed the torn cartilage.

"It bothers me all the time," Namath said. "It's not a constant pain, but the knee is stiff when I stand up and walk, and it takes a few steps before it loosens up.

"Just the other day in my New York apartment, for example, I made a slight body rotation and didn't watch my knee and it almost went out."

Namath said he expects to spend about two weeks in the hospital, from four to six weeks in a cast and then four or five months recuperating and exercising the knee.

Namath performed well during the season just completed — connecting on 232 of 471 passes for 3,379 yards and 19 touchdowns. But he was hampered by lack of mobility, the inability to escape when opposing linemen broke through the Jets' pass protection. He had 27 passes intercepted.

Halas To Retain Coaching Staff, Including Halas

CHICAGO (AP) — The entire Chicago Bears' coaching staff will be retained for next year, owner-Coach George Halas said last night.

"I'm not contemplating any changes in coaching personnel, and I never have," said Papa Bear, who will return for his 40th season as head coach.

Meanwhile, tight safety Richie Petitbon, an eight-year pro veteran, said he would like to finish his career in his home town of New Orleans, La., which has been awarded a National Football League franchise for 1967.

Petitbon, a Tulane graduate and Pro Bowl choice, said:

"I'm not saying I will quit football if the Bears don't trade me, but if I can work it out with the Bears, I would like to play in New Orleans. Two years from now, I plan to retire from football."

Bruin Mike Lynn To Stand Trial

LOS ANGELES (UPI) —Mike Lynn, a star UCLA basketball performer, began to prepare his case today after being ordered in superior court to stand trial Jan. 6 on three counts of forging a credit card.

The 6-7 forward, the only senior on the 1966 Bruins squad, and his roommate, Larry McCollister, pleaded innocent to the charges yesterday.

Judge Arthur Alarcon set the trial date for the two youths, both 21, who were arrested Nov. 30 in a West Pico Boulevard department store and accused of forging the credit card which Lynn said he found near his home in Covina.

Guy Rodgers Paces Bulls; Lakers Lose

If the Chicago Bulls finally do nail down that playoff spot they are trying for, Guy Rodgers' assistance will be a big factor.

Rodgers had 24 assists last night—a National Basketball Assn. high for the year—in leading the Bulls to their fifth consecutive victory, 110-107 over the New York Knickerbockers at Chicago.

Rodgers leads the league in assists with just over 11 per game, and he passed the Knicks just dizzy enough for the Bulls to withstand a final New York rush at victory in the closing minutes.

The Bulls led 95-71 early in the fourth quarter, but with Willis Reed and Howard Komives each scoring 12 points in the final period, the Knicks closed the gap to three points with 39 seconds left.

But the fourth-place Bulls stalled out the remaining seconds and moved just one game away from Detroit, third in the Western Division, and two games back of runner-up St. Louis.

In other NBA games, St. Louis beat Baltimore 118-108 at Charleston, W. Va., and Philadelphia turned back San Frandelphia turned back Los Angeles 129-123 on the West Coast.

Don Kojis and Bob Boozer led the Bulls with 22 points and Rodgers added 18. Reed had 23 and Komives threw in 23 for the Knicks.

Joe Caldwell scored 11 points late in the third period, giving St. Louis a 13-point bulge over the Bullets and ultimately the victory. he victory ended a three-game losing streak for the Hawks. Caldwell finished with 22 points and Paul Silas added 20. LeRoy Ellis had 23 for Baltimore.

Philadelphia spurted in the second half after a slow start and overhauled Los Angeles after the Lakers had built a 40-27 first-quarter lead and 73-63 intermission advantage. The 76ers outscored Los Angeles 34-27 first-quarter lead and 73-63 away in the final stanza with a 32-22 edge.

Hal Greer paced the Eastern Division leaders with 37 points and Chet Walker contributed 25. Jerry West was high for the Lakers with 40 points, including 20 of 23 free throws.

THE FACES OF JESUS

Master Storyteller Used His Talent Well

(Third in a series.)
By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religious Writer

He could turn a tale. And it left its mark. It was an old rabbinical technique, the "mashal" —the concrete, simple story about human activity that climatically lit up an idea. Jesus was a master of it.

In homes, on mountainsides, at night beside campfires, on a bench in the temple court, on lakesides, in synagogues, in streetside encounters, the Galilean spun yarns with spark, verve and permanent point.

And He did it buoyantly.

"Be of good cheer," He kept telling the crestfallen. "Take heart, my son." Despite the travail He eventually endured, and the consequent melancholy portraits of Him, He actually was an optimistic man. "Let not your hearts be troubled."

He didn't fret. "And which of you by being anxious can add one cubit to his span of life?"

He drew a thought from that, too. "But if God so clothes the grass of the field . . . will He not much more clothe you. O men of little faith? Therefore do not be anxious. . . . Let the day's own trouble be sufficient for the day."

To explain His mission, He used such plain, earthy realities —the commonplace circumstances and situations which, if given the close observation which He gave them, take on a sunburst of meaning.

"What do you think?" He would begin, and then He would tell a story.

"A man had two sons. . . . the man told each of them, 'Son, go and work in the vineyard today.' The first said, 'I will not,' but he went anyhow. The other said, 'I go, sir,' but he didn't. Which of the two did the will of the father. . . ?"

It was absolutely clear. No matter how noble a person's professions or fine his religious claims, it was his performance that mattered, and even the outwardly defiant and doubtful might actually serve more constructively than the avowedly dutiful.

His vocabulary had a picturesque zip and vividness to it. "Sift you like wheat . . ." or "blind guides, straining out a gnat while swallowing a camel."

Although a man of His time and culture, using parabolic metaphors, alliterations, parallels and antithesis which found a natural response in Jewish intuition, He had a style and inventiveness of His own.

And it intrigued His contemporaries, including the intellectuals. "Who is this Son of Man?" "He is a good man." No, He is leading people astray." "This is really the prophet." This is the Christ." He puzzled them. "How is it this man has such learning?"

To illustrate the development of that ultimate destiny, He compared it to yeast working in dough, to a tiny seed growing and spreading, always a hidden thing, a secret germ of the divine working among men, gradual and sure, not dependent on them, yet demanding their cooperation.

His subjects ranged widely — farming, family life, lawsuits, wealth, poverty, lending, borrowing, management, labor, criminals, weddings, kings, soldiers and slaves — drawn in dramas of fear, love, betrayal duty, hate, courage and sometimes comedy.

Humor shows in the story of the unprincipled judge, from whom a widow kept demanding settlement of her case. He repeatedly refused, but her persistence defeated him. Sighed the judge: "Though I neither fear God nor regard man, yet because this widow bothers me, I will vindicate her, or she will wear me out . . ."

The point here, urging patient confidence in prayer, lay in a striking contrast. Even if a lax judge will finally respond to perseverance, how much more will "God vindicate His elect who cry to Him day and night?"

He had an abundant store of material, from imagination and experience. About 40 different stories are recorded, but there must have been many more, since the gospels were set down from notes and memory about 30 years afterward.

Jesus regularly used the ploy. "Now tell me . . ." "What man of you . . . ?" "Do you see those great buildings . . . ?" It was a play of questions that introduced one of His most famous parables.

Jesus asked back, "What is written in the law?"

The lawyer replied: "You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart . . . soul and . . . strength, and your neighbor as yourself."

The lawyer: "And who is my

So Jesus, as usual, told a story—about a traveler, stripped and beaten and left on the roadside half dead. Great citizens of his own nation passed him by, but a despised Samaritan treated his wounds, took him to an inn, paid for his care.

His deep note of joy showed in other memorable parables—of the shepherd's happiness at finding a lost sheep, a woman's delight at finding a lost coin, a father's celebration over return of a prodigal son.

Jesus, who saw His own work as restoring the lost and the prodigal, said, "It was fitting to make merry and be glad . . ."

Professor Takes Issue With Pioneer's Grandson

A University of California professor of history has crossed pistols with Waddell F. Smith of San Rafael over the role the Wells Fargo Co. played in the running of the Pony Express.

Dr. W. Turrentine Jackson, a scholar of the history of the American West, has challenged Smith's contention that Wells Fargo had no other connection than to act as agents in the final six months of the service in 1861.

"The company was more than an agent; it had financial and operational control of Pony Express during the six months which totaled a third of the life of the service," declares Dr. Jackson, in effect.

He makes this assertion in a documented article called "A New Look at Wells Fargo, Stagecoaches and the Pony Express" in the current issue of the California Historical Society Quarterly.

The professor says anyone who has doubts about Wells Fargo's connection with Pony Express during the final six months should look at the comparative financial condition of the company and of the three partners, William H. Russell, Alexander Majors and William B. Waddell, who were the founders of Pony Express. The partners had no control, says Dr. Jackson.

This new argument adds fuel to the fires of controversy which have raged around the early history of Pony Express for many years.

It appears in direct contradiction to an opinion of Smith, great-grandson of the founder partner Waddell, who has objected to Wells Fargo's claims which make it appear to have been the Pony Express operator.

Sixty-seven-year-old Smith, a retired Air Force colonel, moved to San Rafael in 1949 and established the Pony Express Retreat at his home at 75 Margarita Drive.

In 1957 he was instrumental in setting up an association to organize the centenary of the Pony Express in 1960, and he rode the first horse in a re-enactment of the eastward run out of Sacramento.

A large part of his time has been devoted to denying any connection between Wells Fargo and Pony Express in California other than that the company acted as an agent.

A letter to the Independent-Journal March 11, 1965 states in part: "There was a time not too long ago when the western populace was led to believe Wells Fargo owned and operated the Pony Express. Nothing could be further from the truth."

Dr. Jackson agrees that, on paper, the Overland Mail Co. took over the running of Pony Express when Russell, Majors and Waddell went "pathetically insolvent." But he wrote that he had evidence that Wells Fargo directors had a financial interest and strong voice in Overland and—in effect—owned and operated Pony Express from that position.

Pony Express operation was an activity in which Wells Fargo had "enviable experience," said Dr. Jackson. The company never hesitated to send a rider to deliver an urgent message or document.

"The more the scholar looks at the evidence concerning Wells Fargo Co., as a business concern, the more he is likely to be convinced that the company's influence over finance and policy extended into virtually all aspects of transportation and communication.

"All historians would be well advised to examine the sources with care before categorically asserting that the company had nothing to do with any single phase of that field of endeavor."

Dark Bourbon:

We fix it with a sour mash that goes back more than 75 years. We fire it gently and draw it off just a little at a time. And, even then, we only take the prime part of the run.
